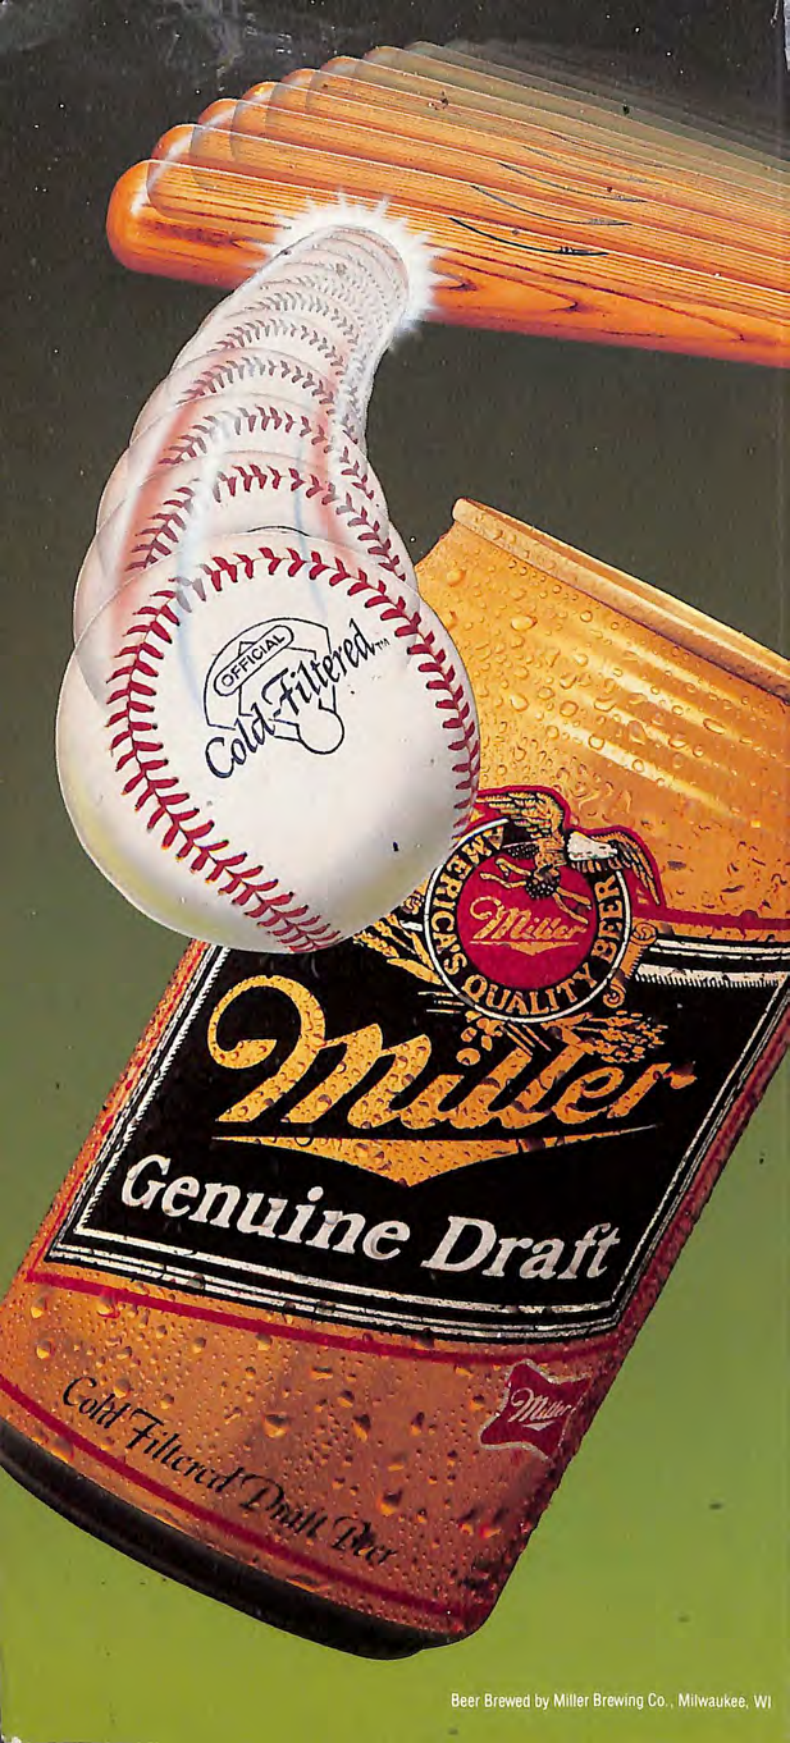
1990 CHICAGO WHITE SOX MEDIA GUIDE

80 YEARS REMEMBERED

The last season in historic Comiskey Park.

1990 CHICAGO WHITE SOX MEDIA GUIDE



Beer Brewed by Miller Brewing Co., Milwaukee, WI

In Memory of Don Unferth

The 1990 White Sox media guide is dedicated to the memory of "The Good Shepherd," Don Unferth. The longtime White Sox official was called that, said veteran Chicago Tribune baseball columnist Jerome Holtzman, "because he was so outstanding in his job as traveling secretary."

Unferth joined the White Sox as assistant farm director in 1948 and served the club well in a variety of other capacities--publicity director, statistician, director of public relations--until his retirement in 1980. A kind and gentle man, loved by all who knew him, Don lost a long battle with cancer on December 4, 1989. The 1969 inductee into the Wisconsin Sports Hall of Fame (he was a native of North Fond du Lac) was 75.

Having retired to North Port, Florida, Don and his friendly smile will be missed around the White Sox spring training camp in Sarasota and others nearby, such as the Texas Rangers' facility at Port Charlotte.

Comiskey Park History

And soon it will be no more. The grand dame of American stadia will close its doors after the 1990 season, giving way to an attractive, spacious new facility that will embody the best of the old and the new in a traditional neighborhood setting. At the same time the legacy of Charles Comiskey will continue with the new park bearing the name of the family that is synonymous with baseball in Chicago.

It began in 1900 when the fledgling White Sox set up shop in a small, uncomfortable wooden stadium at 39th and Wentworth. The creaking grandstand was once home to the Chicago Wanderers Cricket Club, but it had long since been abandoned. Comiskey secured loans from the First National Bank of Chicago to renovate the park, but in its heyday the seating never exceeded 7,500. As early as 1903 the energetic Sox owner considered the ways and means of relocating his club to new headquarters. The search lasted nearly six years before Comiskey was able to purchase the property he considered truly ideal — a tract of land east of 35th and Wentworth in the Canal Trustees Subdivision. The property once belonged to Mayor John Wentworth, but it had fallen into a state of neglect during the intervening years. A truck farm and a junkyard occupied the site. After months of negotiation, Charles Comiskey bought the grounds from Roxanna Bowen on January 19, 1909 and began to formulate plans for a modern concrete and steel stadium, the third to be erected in the United States.

To build the "Baseball Palace of the World" Comiskey hired an up-and-coming young architect, Zachary Taylor Davis, who went on to build Weeghman Park (better known as Wrigley Field) in 1914. The Comiskey Park commission was the first of his distinguished career, and it established Davis as the foremost expert on the "kite-shaped" baseball park. Davis submitted his first sketch on October 6, 1909.

Actual groundbreaking took place five months later, when Davis laid in place a "lucky" Irish-green brick on St. Patrick's Day 1910. It was a day of celebration and revelry on the storied South Side of Chicago. But to complete the task of construction before the July 1, 1910 deadline required the extra mile — and a large dose of Yankee ingenuity. Setting back the timetable was an unexpected strike of the structural steel workers. But it got done on time. Comiskey Park opened to rave reviews on July 1. It was a day of gala celebrations on the South Side. Brass bands, an ornate downtown parade, and the well wishes of many local celebrities highlighted the calendar of events, but the Sox dropped a 2-0 decision to the St. Louis Browns.

The notable feature of Comiskey Park—upper decked from first to third base, with two detached grandstands in right and left — was its massive size. Baseball had never seen anything like this before. Most antiquated 19th century ballparks were intimate, cozy structures dwarfed by the imposing Comiskey Park. The stadium was likened to the ancient Roman Coliseum, which suited Chicago's "Old Roman" to the tee. The original dimensions were 363 down the lines and 420 to dead center, where an immense wooden scoreboard loomed over the field.

The next decade brought continued success — and more overflow crowds. As per the usual customs of the day, fans were often permitted to stand in roped off sections of the outfield during big events like title fights or testimonial days for ballplayers. On occasion Comiskey would construct temporary platforms and chairs to accommodate the extra crowds.

The Old Roman was understandably concerned about this. Insurance rates naturally went up, and the corresponding difficulties posed by fans standing on the field were evident on April 26, 1925, when the crowd swarmed past the rope forcing the umpire to declare a forfeit. Comiskey addressed this situation by ordering construction of an upper deck in 1927. The first major renovation cost $100,000, almost the amount it cost to build the park in 1910. The outfield grandstand connected to the seats down in the corners for the first time, and a special bleacher section was constructed in center field. Scoreboards were transferred to the outfield walls, and the new upper deck seated an additional 23,000 fans. Comiskey Park was even more cavernous, at a time when the team's fortunes were in a tailspin. Between 1927 and 1951, the year of the "Great Revival," there were only a handful of times when those seats were filled.

Oddly enough, the upper deck was better suited to football than baseball. The sightlines from the upper deck were ideal for "bird watching," Chicago Cardinal-style, that is. The boys of winter played in Comiskey Park in 1922, 1925, 1929-30, and then continuously from 1939-58. In 1947 the Cards won the NFL title playing in frozen Comiskey Park.

After 1927 there were few structural renovations made to Comiskey Park. A public address system and distance markings were added in 1935. Anchored seats were in place for the 1941 season. A press box for the Cardinals was added in 1948. Lighting was installed in 1939, and the first electronic scoreboard was constructed in center field in 1951. The "Chesterfield" board would light up with each Sox base hit.

In 1960 Bill Veeck decided that "Chesterfield! It's a Hit" was too sedate for his tastes. With the help of advertising money, he built the first "exploding" scoreboard in baseball, one that belched smoke and rockets for each home run slugged by a White Sox. The "Monster" stood for 21 years, replaced by the current DiamondVision board in 1982. At various times the ownerships tinkered with the auspicious dimensions of the park. Chicken wire fencing was strung across the perimeter of the warning track in 1949 and again in 1969. The infield was moved closer to the walls in 1934 and 1983 with mixed results.

The new Comiskey Park scheduled to open in 1991.

Usually it was the opposition and not the Sox who profited from these changes.

Astroturf, or "Sox Sod," was installed in the infield for 1969. It was a first for the American League. But when artificial surfaces fell out of favor by the mid-1970's, Bill Veeck ordered its removal. The picnic area was another Bill Veeck innovation, built in 1960 underneath the left field stands. For the first time fans were permitted a bird's eye view of the field, exactly the same as the left fielder.

The 1970's and 1980's bore witness to several more cosmetic changes. The color schemes of the seating went from red to blue to green. In 1977 Bill Veeck painted a multi-colored pattern in the upper deck of left field. No reason was given, but it provided for lively debate in the stands. What could this mean? To this day, no one really knows for sure.

Picnic areas were constructed under the stands in right field to accommodate private parties. In 1982 new dugouts, wider aisles, front office facilities, and contoured plastic seating for the fans' comfort in the reserved sections were added. Comiskey Park, when all was said and done, was a patchwork quilt of ideas, reflecting the personality and temperament of its various owners. The signatures of Charles Comiskey, his heirs, Bill Veeck, the Allyns, and Eddie Einhorn and Jerry Reinsdorf are written all over this fine old palace.

Unfortunately, the deteriorating infra-structure mandated that a new facility be erected. Beginning in 1986, steps were taken to assure the future of the franchise in Chicago. Funding legislation was passed by the Illinois General Assembly in November 1986. The agreement was signed during a special "home plate" ceremony in old Comiskey Park on January 19, 1987. But it would take another two years of sensitive negotiation before the first spade of dirt was turned on the land that would eventually house the new Comiskey Park. Indeed, the fate of the stadium bill hinged on a few votes of balky legislators in the General Assembly. On the final roll-call of the 1988 legislative session the amended bill passed by a scant nine votes.

The way was finally cleared for the construction of the new Comiskey Park. In January 1989, the adjacent buildings occupying the stadium site were cleared. Official groundbreaking took place on May 7. Governor James Thompson, whose tireless efforts helped keep the White Sox on the South side where they belong, was the keynote speaker on a day not unlike that of March 17, 1910 — when the vision of Charles Comiskey and Zachary Taylor Davis was fulfilled.

The new stadium, designed by the award-winning architectural firm of Hellmuth, Obata, and Kassabaum (HOK) Sports Facilities Group, is the first baseball-only structure to be erected since 1972, when Royals Stadium in Kansas City opened up. New Comiskey Park promises to capture the essence of old-time baseball with modern up-to-date conveniences and no obstructing vertical posts! The 43,000-seat open-air stadium is scheduled to begin operation on Opening Day 1991. Stay tuned.

Major League Highlights: Has appeared with the Sox in each of the last six seasons and completed his second full major league campaign in 1989. 1988: First complete major league season ..... notched career highs with 15 home runs and 31 RBI ..... one home run every 18.7 at bats was second best ratio on club behind Carlton Fisk's 13.3 ..... 29 of Boston's 61 hits (15 homers, 12 doubles, 2 triples) went for extra bases ..... 22 of his 31 RBI came on the 15 home runs ..... belted first career grand slam homer June 26 at Texas ..... collected four homers in a seven-game stretch May 8-17 ..... matched career best with a pair of three-hit games (August 5 in the second game at California and August 22 at Toronto) ..... hit 15th and final home run at Detroit August 18 and collected just two more RBI the rest of the way ..... logged the Sox' only pinch-hit homer, a two-run shot versus Boston at Comiskey Park in the nightcap of a doubleheader July 8 ..... homered in three consecutive games July 8 (second game) and 9 (both games). 1987: Opened the season with the Sox and remained at the major league level until being outrighted to "AAA" Hawaii August 5 ..... returned to Sox September 2 and stayed for the rest of the campaign ..... hitting just .232 at the time of his demotion in August, finished strong in September/October and raised his final batting mark to .258 ..... hit .377 after his return with two homers and nine RBI ..... six straight multiple-hit games with two "dingers" and seven RBI after his return to Sox ..... made starts in center field with right-handed hitting Gary Redus through May 17 ..... majority of remaining starts in left field against opposing right-handers ..... notched first career two-homer game June 20 in a Sox victory at Minnesota ..... longest hitting streak of the season was a nine-game skein May 23-June 3 ..... hit .321 at Comiskey Park but only .195 on the road ..... continued career success against Red Sox, rapping nine hits in 22 at bats for a .409 mark. 1986: Spent the season's first four months at "AAA" Buffalo of the American Association before being recalled by parent Sox July 30 ..... batted .303 with five homers and 41 RBI in 96 games at Buffalo ..... good on 37 of 47 stolen base attempts ..... hot bat when he first joined the Sox, compiling a 13-game hitting streak in mid-August and hitting .333 for the month ..... the hitting skein matched earlier efforts by Carlton Fisk and John Cangelosi for the longest on the squad in '86 ..... it was also Boston's major league best ..... slumped to a .196 mark in September and October and finished the season with a .266 batting average ..... tied for sixth on the club with 11 doubles in just 199 at bats ..... knocked in a career-high four RBI at Milwaukee August 8 ..... collected 14 RBI in his first 13 games with the Sox. 1985: Opened the season as the club's regular center fielder but a batting slump prompted his option to "AAA" Buffalo June 30 ..... recalled September 1 and finished the season with the Sox ..... started the season on a good note, hitting safely in his first four games with three two-hit games (7-14, .500), three doubles, a triple and three RBI ..... belted first major league home run May 19 in Chicago off Texas' Charlie Hough ..... also recorded his first major league hit off Hough May 13, 1984 ..... hit safely in six of his first seven games with at bats after his recall (9-23, .391). 1984: Made his major league debut May 13 an auspicious one by tripling off Hough in his first big league at bat ..... followed with two consecutive singles before striking out in fourth trip, leaving him just one hit short of the major league and White Sox record for consecutive hits at the start of a major league career ..... added a stolen base for good measure in his debut ..... recalled by the parent White Sox three times from "AAA" Denver ..... appeared in 35 White Sox games ..... enjoyed a banner year at Denver (see below).

Minor League Highlights: Progressed through the White Sox farm system, reaching the major leagues in 1984 after stops at the "Rookie," "A," "AA," and "AAA" levels ..... was a Midwest League all-star in 1982 ..... in 1983, despite being promoted from "AA" to "AAA" in the final few weeks of the season, still finished second on the Glens Falls ("AA") squad with 18 home runs and was fourth in RBI with 50 ..... at the end of the '83 campaign, he was dubbed one of the top 10 major league prospects in the Eastern League by Baseball America ..... he was accorded the same honor in '84 as an American Association player ..... that year at Denver, hit .312 and stole 40 bases in 127 games ..... his average was fourth best in the American Association and he led the loop with 19 triples, the most recorded in that league in 19 yearsn ..... earned American Association rookie-of-the-year honors.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Selected by Woman Magazine as one of the six sexiest men in baseball .... was selected by the White Sox as their first-round pick (seventh choice overall) in the June 1981 free agent draft ..... the choice made him the highest drafted player from the Cincinnati area since White Sox pitcher Richard Dotson was selected seventh in the nation by California in 1977 ..... graduated from Woodward High in Cincinnati after a stellar prep career as a pitcher and football quarterback ..... heavily recruited football player ..... father Henry was manager of the Cincinnati Tigers semi-professional baseball team at one time ..... that team's star player was outfielder Dave Parker ..... owns an excellent impersonation of singer Stevie Wonder.

Comiskey Park Flashback

In a game played on June 9, 1947 in Comiskey Park, an angry fan held up play for nearly a half-hour while he argued a point with an umpire. The Sox went on to defeat the New York Yankees 9-8 in 10 innings.

John Davis
Pitcher/#31

Given name: John Kirk Davis. Age: 27. Born: January 5, 1963, Chicago, Ill. Bats/throws: Right/right. Height/weight: 6-7/215. Major league tenure: One year, 80 days. Residence: Northridge, Calif. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Married Misty Dean. First pro contract: Kansas City; selected in seventh round, June 1981 free agent draft. Major league debut: July 24, 1987 with Kansas City (at Baltimore). Sox acquisition: Obtained with pitchers Melido Perez, Chuck Mount and Greg Hibbard in exchange for pitcher Floyd Bannister and infielder Dave Cochrane December 10, 1987.

1989: Started season at "AAA" Vancouver where he posted a 4-3 ledger with a 2.37 ERA, third lowest on the staff ..... made 35 appearances in relief, finished 27 games, recorded 11 saves, yielded 13 earned runs and struck out 57 ..... tossed 49.1 innings, third most among relievers on staff ..... had contract purchased on June 19 ..... made first ChiSox appearance on June 20 at New York, hurled 4.0 frames, yielded two earned runs, matched career-high four strikeouts ..... picked up fourth career save ..... pitched in three other contests before being outrighted to Vancouver on July 16.

Major League Highlights: Has struck out four batters in a contest six times, last time against Yankees at New York on June 20, 1989 ..... has compiled a 7-7 record with four saves in three stints in major leagues. 1988: Jumped back and forth between the Sox and Vancouver but managed 34 appearances, 33 in relief, with the parent club ..... only three hurlers (Bobby Thigpen, Rick Horton, and Bill Long) took the mound more often ..... season-ending numbers showed just a 2-5 record and 6.64 ERA ..... primarily a setup man, claimed just one save (May 1 versus Baltimore in Chicago) ..... effective in the early part of the season, posting a 1-1 record, the one save, and a 1.80 ERA in his first 12 appearances (through May 7) ..... struggled in the next month and saw his ERA rise to 5.73 before being outrighted to Vancouver June 4 ..... came back to the Sox July 7 and earned a win over Boston July 8 in his first appearance ..... effective for most of July but three poor outings at the end of the month spelled his return to Vancouver August 1 ..... final trip back to the Sox came August 16 and he concluded the season with the parent club ..... homer allowed April 12 to California's Jack Howell at Anaheim was the first of Davis' big league career which had reached 48.0 innings .....used as a last-minute starter May 25 against Cleveland when scheduled starter Jerry Reuss was stricken with the flu. 1987: Split his season between "AAA" Omaha of the American Association and Kansas City ..... joined the Royals in July and made his big league debut July 24 at Baltimore ..... made a total of 27 relief appearances with the Royals and owned a 5-2 record, 2.27 ERA and two saves ..... won his first three major league decisions ..... first win came August 9 at Boston with 6.2 innings of three-hit relief in an 8-3 win over the Red Sox ..... struck out four, his season high, and walked none in that first win ..... it was also the longest stint of his rookie season ..... added wins August 17 at Texas and August 27 at Kansas City versus Texas to push his record to 3-0 with a 1.25 ERA ..... had allowed just three earned runs in 21.2 innings at that point ..... first big league loss came at the hands of the White Sox September 6 in an 11-inning game at Royals Stadium ..... dropped another game September 10 at Oakland but won his final two verdicts September 17 at home versus California and September 26 at Minnesota ..... first save came August 19 at Texas and second occurred September 8 at California ..... allowed no more than two earned runs in any one outing and gave up as many as two just twice ..... did not give up a home run in his 43.2 innings.

Minor League Highlights: Drafted by the Royals in June 1981, Davis worked his way through their system before reaching the big leagues in 1987 ..... first pro season at "Rookie" Sarasota in '81 where he went 2-2 in 10 outings ..... compiled a fine 7-1 record as a starter at "Rookie" Butte of the Pioneer League in '82 but his ERA stood at 6.14 ..... after three successive losing seasons as a starter ('83-'85), Davis was moved to the bullpen in '86 ..... spent most of that season at "AA" Memphis but was promoted to "AAA" Omaha to assist that club in its playoff drive ..... relieved in all but five of his 41 outings at Memphis and posted eight saves, second most on the Chicks' staff ..... compiled a 4-3 record and 2.66 ERA in 43 games at "AAA" Omaha in 1987 prior to his major league debut with the Royals ..... notched seven saves and recorded 44 strikeouts in just 50.2 innings ..... stood 1-0 with five saves and a 3.18 ERA in 15 relief appearances at "AAA" Vancouver in '88.

Miscellaneous/Personal: A 1981 graduate of Centennial High School in Pueblo, Colo., where he lettered in baseball and basketball ..... helped lead the basketball squad to an undefeated season and was twice named to the all-South Central League squad .....an all-Colorado selection in both sports ..... also played American Legion baseball ..... his father, Millard Davis, played professional basketball with the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association in 1957-58.

Carlton Fisk
Catcher/#72

Given name: Carlton Ernest Fisk. Nickname: "Pudge." Age: 42. Born: December 26, 1947, Bellow Falls, Vt. Bats/throws: Right/right. Height/weight: 6-2/223. Major league tenure: Eighteen years, 54 days. Residence: Lockport, Ill. Contract status: Signed through 1991. Family: Married Linda Foust; daughter Carlyn (September 26, 1970), son Casey (February 20, 1972) and daughter Courtney (February 18, 1976). First pro contract: Boston Red Sox; selected first round (fourth player in nation), January 1967 free agent draft. Major league debut: September 18, 1969 with Boston (vs. Baltimore). Sox acquisition: Signed as a free agent March 10, 1981.

1989: Future Hall of Famer in his 18th season continued to surpass records of the game's past legends ..... for the second consecutive season had an injury-plagued year ..... suffered broken right hand April 10 at Seattle ..... fracture occurred over spot of same break that idled him in 1988 ..... had a metal plate inserted to protect broken bone which sidelined him for 44 games (April 11- June 2) ..... placed on DL 4/11; moved from 15-day DL to 21-day DL April 28 ..... activated on May 31 ..... despite injury once again posted some outstanding numbers ..... started season with two home runs in first three contests at California ..... on June 21 at New York, hit his 307th home run as a catcher, passing former Yankee Yogi Berra as the American League's all-time receiver leader ..... reached another milestone versus New York on July 17, rapping his 2,000th career hit ..... No. 2,000 came at the expense of Dave LaPoint ..... has 2,063 career hits ..... delivered 13 home runs in '89 ..... now trails all time home run leader Harold Baines (186) with 174 ChiSox homers ..... posted .563 average with two home runs and eight RBI versus Yankees ..... at Comiskey Park hit .343 in 49 games ..... caught 86 games, made 98 starts ..... posted 13-game hitting streak August 9-23 ..... over period was 18-54 .333 with eight RBI and two home runs ..... hit .326 in June with 17 RBI ..... hit 26th career home run against Red Sox on July 21 at Boston, an eighth-inning shot that gave Sox a 1-0 win ..... registered season high four-hit games on June 19 versus Boston and August 5 versus Detroit ..... on three occasions recorded four RBI ..... July 19 and August 5 versus New York and August 13 at Seattle ..... over last 12 games of season was 15-39 .385 with 11 RBI ..... in final game of campaign versus Cleveland went 2-for-4 with one homer and three RBI ..... closed out year with 68 RBI and 110 hits in 103 games.

Major League Highlights: With 15 games in 1990, will equal his Boston career total (1,078) ..... enters campaign having played 1,063 contests in White Sox livery ..... is tied for 47th on all-time home run list with Joe Adcock (336) ..... of his 336 lifetime homers, 315 have come as a catcher ..... that figure is second best among all catchers and first in American League history ..... needs just 13 home runs to surpass former Reds receiver Johnny Bench, who belted 327 of his 389 career homers as a catcher..... his 1,928 games caught ranks first on the all-time American League list, second overall behind Bob Boone (2,185) ..... with 117 career stolen bases, Fisk is the only catcher in modern baseball history to top the century mark in both homers and stolen bases ..... just the third catcher in baseball history to collect 300 home runs, 1,000 runs and 1,000 RBI ..... Hall of Famers Johnny Bench and Yogi Berra are the other two ..... a 10-time selection to the A.L. All-Star team ..... has enjoyed enormous success against his former Boston teammates since joining the White Sox in 1981 ..... in 78 games versus the Red Sox, has hit .323 with 26 home runs and 59 RBI ..... has appeared in a pair of ALCS (Chicago in '83 and Boston in '75) and one World Series (Boston in '75).
1988: Broken right hand forced him to miss 70 games and shortened another fine season for the veteran catcher ..... despite the injury, belted 19 homers and drove in 50 runs ..... just one home run shy of team leader Dan Pasqua and equalled Pasqua for second best RBI total on club (behind Harold Baines' 81) ..... notched

one homer every 13.3 at bats, the best ratio on the club ..... established an American League record for games caught with his 1,807th catching appearance August 19 at Detroit ..... celebrated the occasion with his first career five-hit game ..... a pair of two-homer games (April 19 at Seattle and August 17 versus Toronto), the 21st and 22nd of his career ..... got off to a fast start, collecting eight home runs and 17 RBI before suffering the broken hand May 10 at New York when a Jack Clark foul tip caught his bare hand ..... returned to the active roster July 28 and dramatically hit a homer and double in his first game back against California at Comiskey Park ..... continued his flair for the dramatic August 17 against Toronto at Comiskey Park ..... honored prior to the game for his impending American League games caught record, Fisk responded to the attention by hitting a pair of homers off the Blue Jays' Jim Clancy ..... named A.L. player of the week after setting the record ..... hit .556 (10-18) for the week with three homers and eight RBI ..... longest hitting streak of the season was a nine-gamer (11-32, .344, five homers, eight RBI) from April 18 throught May 3 ..... strung together a seven-game skein August 11-19 (14-25, .560, three homers, eight RBI) ..... belted a 10th-inning game-winning homer off Oakland's Eric Plunk April 22 at Comiskey Park ..... knocked his 25th career homer against Boston, his former team, May 5 at Fenway Park ..... reached that mark in just eight seasons against the Red Sox ..... homered in four consecutive games April 18, 19, 21, and 22, including a two-homer effort April 19 ..... homered in consecutive games three more times (May 5 and 7, May 10 and July 28 around his disabled list stay, and August 16 and 17) ..... hit .305 in April and .320 in August, his two best months of the season ..... appeared only as a catcher or pinch-hitter. 1987: Achieved several career milestones ..... collected 1,000th run batted in at California June 7 with a ninth-inning home run, his second round-tripper of the game ..... belted his 300th career homer September 5 at Kansas City off the Royals' Danny Jackson ..... also notched no. 299 off Jackson August 31 in Comiskey Park ..... cracked his 20th home run of the season September 17 to beat Seattle in the 10th inning at Comiskey Park ..... Fisk, at age 39, became the oldest catcher in baseball history and the oldest White Sox player to hit 20 or more home runs in one season ..... a pair of homers off American League two-time Cy Young Award winner Roger Clemens at Boston August 26 gave Fisk his 20th career two-homer game ..... a round-tripper at Boston August 24 was his 100th career shot at historic Fenway Park and his 10th there as a member of the White Sox ..... Fisk and Bob Boone are two of only five players in the history of baseball to catch at least one-half of their club's games at age 39 or older ..... Fisk made 102 starts behind the plate in '87 and appeared in 122 games there despite starting the season as a back-up to rookie Ron Karkovice ..... Fisk finished the season with 23 home runs, 18 of them on the road ..... that mark fell just one short of the club record for most road home runs (19 by Eddie Robinson in 1951) ..... did not assume regular catching duties until early June ..... made six starts as the Sox' designated hitter, six more at first base, and two opening assignments in left field (May 22 and 23 at Boston) in the season's first 50 games ..... longest hitting streaks of the year were a pair of nine-gamers, one April 12-25 and the other September 14-22 ..... his first 1987 start at first base April 26 (versus Toronto) was his first there since June 29, 1982 ..... stole just one base for the year, but it keyed an 11-inning win at Kansas City September 6 ..... while Fisk displayed more power on the road (18 homers and 47 RBI), he hit for a better average at home (.266) than he did away from home (.246) ..... continued to haunt his old team by hitting four home runs against Boston, three off ace Roger Clemens and all four at Fenway Park ..... also hit four round-trippers against California ..... was hitting just .205 through July 2 but had hits in 48 of his last 70 games (72-239, .301) to raise his final average to .256 ..... his career-high 17 GWRBI led the Sox and placed him in a three-way tie for second in the league. 1986: Battled nagging injuries and a virus for much of the season ..... finished with a .221 batting average and 14 home runs ..... still managed 63 RBI, second best total on the club ..... batting average was the lowest of his 15 major league seasons and the homer total was his lowest since 1982 ..... injuries included a bruised right wrist suffered when struck by a pitch in spring training and severely jammed thumb that ended his catching duties for the season September 15 ..... also missed 11 games with a virus in July ..... started the season's first 26 games in left field as the Sox inserted Joel Skinner behind the plate ..... made first appearance as a catcher May 9 at Cleveland, catching the ninth inning ..... made first catching start the following afternoon but did not catch a full game until May 12 at Baltimore ..... batted just .200 with two home runs and seven RBI in the first 25 games while playing only left field ..... offense improved when he returned to catching, homering once and driving in a dozen runs in 11-game period beginning May 9 ..... recorded season-long 13-game hitting streak June 10-23, equalling concurrent skein by John Cangelosi and later one by Daryl Boston for the longest on the squad in '86 ..... just one-for-eight as a pinch-hitter but the one hit was a three-run homer at Toronto August 21, his first homer in a guest role since September 20, 1984. 1985: Enjoyed the most productive season of his major league career ..... career-high totals of 37 home runs and 107 RBI ..... the homer total tied the White Sox club record established by Dick Allen in 1972 ..... extra-base hit percentage of 47.29 led all A.L. regulars ..... Fisk clubbed 33 of the 37 round-trippers while catching, breaking the A.L. single-season standard of 32 set by Detroit's Lance Parrish in 1982 ..... it marked just the second time in his career Fisk topped the century mark in RBI ..... his previous highs were 26 homers (1973, '77 and '83) and 102 RBI (1977) ..... had three two-homer games ..... drove in a season-high seven runs in a game at Texas September 6, equalling his career single-game high ..... blasted his second Comiskey Park roofshot homer against Kansas City's Charlie Leibrandt May 30 ..... the A.L.'s starting catcher in the All-Star Game when Parrish, voted to start in the fans' balloting, was scratched due to injury ..... named to The Sporting News and UPI post-season A.L. all-star teams ..... also received The Sporting News Silver Slugger Award among A.L. catchers ..... Fisk led the A.L. in homers for much of the season's first half ..... finished second for the season behind 38-year old Darrell Evans of Detroit who hit 40 ..... one RBI in every 5.07 at bats ranked ninth in A.L. ..... named league player-of-the-week for May 27-June 1 when he belted five homers and drove in 13 runs in just four games ..... equalled his career best with 17 stolen bases (1982) ..... stole the 100th base of his career May 13 in Chicago against Cleveland ..... swiped second and third base in the second inning versus Oakland June 19 ..... had 23 homers at the All-Star Game break and tied his career-high figure of 26 July 22 in the club's 89th game ..... hit his 32nd homer August 14 against New York in the Sox' 110th game but added just five more in the final 53 contests ..... longest homerless stretch was 16 games from September 7-23 ..... longest hitting streak was an eight-gamer that opened his season (12-31, .387) ..... missed the season's first three games with a muscle pull in his left hip suffered in the final weekend of spring training, his only significant injury of the season ..... made 121 starts behind the plate and 28 more as the Sox designated hitter ..... underwent a rigorous off-season weight-training program prior to the '85 season, adding weight and bulk ..... recorded a pair of putouts at home plate August 2 in New York in one of the most bizarre plays of '85 ..... Fisk took shortstop Ozzie Guillen's relay throw from the outfield on a ball hit to the gap by Rickey Henderson and tagged out out both Bobby Meacham and Dale Berra, who were just steps apart, in succession at home plate ..... Fisk named Chicago's co-player-of-the-year along with the Cubs' Keith Moreland by the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. 1984: Spent the season hampered by an abdominal muscle pull suffered Opening Day ..... forced onto the disabled list once (June 23-July 4) and appeared in only 102 games, his fewest in three seasons ..... Fisk made only 86 appearances behind the plate, 11 as a pinch-hitter and five as a designated hitter ..... despite limited duty, Fisk still became only the second catcher in White Sox history to hit at least 20 home runs in more than one season with 21 round-trippers (Sherm Lollar was the other backstop to accomplish the feat) ..... became only the third player in White Sox history to hit for the cycle and the first to do it at Comiskey Park when he singled, doubled, tripled, and homered against Kansas City May 16 ..... prior to Fisk's fireworks, the last Sox batter to accomplish the feat was Jack Brohamer June 24, 1977 at Seattle ..... Ray Schalk, another catcher, was the first, cycling June 22, 1922 at Detroit ..... 43 RBI marked the lowest total in history for a major leaguer with 20 or more home runs. 1983: Finished a strong third in balloting for the A.L. most valuable player award ..... Fisk was a driving force in the White Sox' 1983 West Division championship, turning a bad year into an outstanding one ..... struggled for the first two months ..... when manager Tony La Russa moved Fisk to the second spot in the batting order June 15, Fisk went on a tear, hitting a torrid .329 (112-340) ..... Fisk hit .319 during the second half (88-176) to raise his season average to .289 ..... second on the White sox in runs (85) and third in home runs (26) ..... 26-home run output matched his then single-season high first set in 1973 and 1977 with Boston ..... joined Ron Kittle (35) and Greg Luzinski (32) to set a club three-man, single-season home run record of 93. 1982: Third on the club in steals (17), fourth in RBI (65) and runs (66) ..... put together a 12-game hitting streak (July 26-August 9) and hit safely in 23 of 25 games (July 26-August 23), driving in five runs in a game against his former teammates, the Red Sox, July 30 ..... made his second straight All-Star Game appearance as a White Sox player. 1981: Fisk's first season with the White Sox after signing as a free agent produced strike-shortened totals of seven home runs and 45 RBI in 96 games ..... the White Sox opened the season April 10 at Boston's Fenway Park, Fisk's home the previous 10 seasons ..... in storybook fashion, Fisk fashioned a three-run home run in the eighth inning to power Chicago past the BoSox, 5-3 ..... in his home debut with the White Sox four days later, Fisk added to the drama by slamming a grand slam home run off Pete Vuckovich to boost the Sox to a 9-3 win over Milwaukee in front of a Comiskey Park-record home Opening Day crowd of 51,560 ..... caught more games than any A.L. receiver (95) and had the fewest passed balls (two) in the league ..... the latter passed ball total was lowest for a White Sox catcher since Brian Downing was charged with only one in 1976 ..... Fisk was voted The Sporting News Silver Slugger Award as the most productive receiver in the American League and also was named to the UPI all-star team. 1980: In his final season with Boston, Fisk re-established himself as an everyday catcher following his injury-plagued '79 campaign ..... caught 115 games, fifth highest total in the A.L. ..... led the league with the fewest passed balls (three) for catchers in 100 or more games ..... registered his 1,000th major league hit June 1 against Milwaukee, a home run off Rickey Keeton at Boston. 1977: Tied a major league mark with only four passed balls in 151 games ..... became one of only six catchers in baseball history to score 100 runs and drive in 100 runs in the same season. 1975: Fisk painted one of the great moments in baseball history with his dramatic, game-winning 12th-inning home run in the sixth game of the World Series against Cincinnati at Boston's Fenway Park ..... the homer, for which he supplied body English, has been documented on film and is still being used on the opening segments of network telecasts. 1972: Named A.L. rookie-of-the-year after batting .293 with 22 home runs and 61 RBI ..... also led league catchers in total chances that earned him a Gold Glove Award.

Minor League Highlights: After missing 1967 due to military service, Fisk reached the big leagues for good by the final 14 games of Boston's '71 season ..... hit .338 in his first professional season at Waterloo ..... made brief and initial big league appearance in 1969.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Signed a two-year contract in January 1990 that will bridge two Comiskeys, old and new ..... son Casey is the starting quarterback at Lockport (Ill.) High School, also participates in baseball ..... wears no. 72, the reverse of his no. 27 at Boston, because "... that was the year my son Casey was born, it was my rookie year in the majors, and it represents a turnaround in my career" ..... selected in first round of the 1967 winter free agent draft by Boston ..... most valuable player in baseball, basketball, and soccer at Charlestown (N.H.) High School before attending the University of New Hampshire ..... brother Calvin was a catcher in the Baltimore organization ..... oldest daughter Carlyn attends The University of Illinois-Chicago on a volleyball scholarship ..... former Boston outfielder Rick Miller is his brother-in-law ..... his free agent signing during spring training in 1981 brought instant credibility to the new White Sox ownership group headed by Jerry Reinsdorf and Eddie Einhorn ..... acquired the nickname "Pudge" as a youngster in New England.

Ron Karkovice
Catcher/#20

Given name (pronunciation): Ronald Joseph Karkovice (KAR-ko-vice). Nickname: "Karko." Age: 26, turns 27 August 8. Born: August 8, 1963, Union, N.J. Bats/throws: Right/right. Height/weight: 6-1/215. Major league tenure: Two years, 175 days. Residence: Orlando, Fla. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Married Maureen O'Brien; son John Patrick (3/13/89). First pro contract: White Sox. Major league debut: August 17, 1986 with White Sox (vs. Milwaukee). Sox acquisition: Selected first round (14th player in nation), June 1982 free agent draft.

1989: Enjoyed most productive year of major league career ..... registered career highs with a .264 average, 24 RBI, 48 hits, nine doubles and two triples .....

appeared in 71 games, caught 57 ..... was one of the most efficent catchers in major leagues ..... threw out 21-of-43 would-be base stealers ..... on April 11 at Seattle registered career-high three hits versus Mariners ..... repeated that same feat on July 30 at California and August 9 versus Oakland ..... notched seven-game hitting streak August 3-18 ..... recorded ten multihit games over season ..... reached season-high batting average of .275 on September 12 ..... had four RBI on May 10 at Milwaukee, going 2-for-4 with a home run ..... hit first career grand slam on August 27 at Cleveland off John Farrell; also recorded career game high-five RBI ..... finished season with three home runs, matching career season best, and had 48 hits ..... over last 24 games went 20-for-63 .317 with 10 RBI.

Major League Highlights: Hit .264 in '89, almost 100 points better than season-entering career average of .168 ..... made jump to big leagues from "AA" Birmingham to the White Sox August 16, 1986 and caught Steve Carlton's first A.L. win the following afternoon in Karko's major league debut ..... also caught Joe Cowley's no-hitter over the Angels at Anaheim September 19, 1986. 1988: Opened the season at "AAA" Vancouver and was called up by the Sox May 11 when catcher Carlton Fisk was disabled with a broken right hand ..... made 37 starts behind the plate before being outrighted back to Vancouver in August following Fisk's return from the disabled list ..... hit .174 with three home runs and nine RBI ..... picked up five RBI in a two-game span May 29 at Toronto and May 31 at Detroit, including a three-run homer against the Tigers ..... collected five two-hit games ..... nailed 13 of 28 opposing base stealers and only six runners stole bases when Karkovice was able to make a throw ..... performed well in winter ball in Puerto Rico, hitting a pair of game-winning grand slams. 1987: The Opening Day Sox catcher and the regular backstop through mid-May ..... a silent bat plagued Karkovice's rookie season ..... hitting just .078 after May 16 start and did not play again until May 27 ..... eight catching starts in June and three more in July before being optioned to "AAA" Hawaii during the All-Star Game break July 15 ..... spent rest of the season with the Islanders ..... final Sox batting average was .071 (6-85) with two homers and seven RBI ..... only GWRBI of the season came Opening Day at Kansas City ..... hits in consecutive games just once (May 6 versus New York and May 9 versus Baltimore) ..... his two homers came May 9 at Chicago versus Baltimore and June 2 at Texas ..... despite the hitting woes, Karkovice still sparkled defensively ..... threw out 10 of 15 attempted base stealers, including one stretch of five in a row. 1986: Singled once in four trips, drove in a run, and scored once in his major league debut versus the Brewers August 17 ..... hit safely in three of his first four games, seven of his first nine and nine of his initial 13 ..... recorded first two-hit game September 20 at California in his 25th game ..... socked first big league homer August 27 in Chicago off Kansas City's Danny Jackson ..... also homered in Cowley's no-hitter ..... longest hitting streak was a five-gamer from September 22-28 (7-14, .500) ..... hit safely in 10 of his last 16 games (14-42, .333) to raise his final batting average to .247.

Minor League Highlights: Has performed at all levels of the Sox organization since being the club's top pick in the 1982 June draft ..... rookie season numbers at Sarasota in 1982 included a team-high seven home runs and 32 RBI in 60 games ..... promoted to "A" Appleton in '83, Karkovice shared the club lead in homers with 13 ..... named to the Midwest League all-star team that season ..... split the '84 season between "AA" Glens Falls and "AAA" Denver ..... in 88 games, hit 13 home runs at Glens Falls, third best on the club ..... hit two more round-trippers in 31 games at Denver ..... spent the '85 campaign at Glens Falls and knocked out 11 homers with 37 RBI ..... battled assorted injuries and was limited to just 99 games ..... hit .282 in 97 games at "AA" Birmingham before the jump to the Sox in '86 ..... belted 20 homers and drove home 53 runs with the Barons, the best offensive production of his professional career ..... batted .183 in 34 games at "AAA" Hawaii in 1987 with four homers and 11 RBI after his return to the minor leagues in July ..... hit .250 with a pair of homers and 39 RBI at Vancouver in '88.

Miscellaneous/Personal: An outstanding defensive catcher with an exceptional throwing arm ..... above average running speed for a catcher ..... an exceptional bunter ..... the 14th overall selection in the June 1982 free agent draft.

1989: Enjoying fine return to Chicago after two-year leave ..... when lower back spasms developed .... placed on DL June 11 and had surgery performed on July 6 for removal of herinated disc, causing his loss for rest of season .... prior to injury led Pale Hose with 11 home runs and 37 RBI .... was hottest player in the month of May in A.L. .... voted American League Player of the Week May 8-14 as well as American League Player of the Month for May .... during month of May compiled 25 RBI and batted .371 (26-70) ..... also added seven homers with a league-leading .714 slugging percentage and .453 on-base percentage .... made first career start at first base on April 20 versus Mariners .... registered four-hit day on May 14 at Baltimore, fourth of his career .... recorded season game-high three RBI on three occasions, last May 9 at Milwaukee .... had 12-game hitting streak from May 1-14 (19-for-43 .442) .... versus Baltimore hit .583 (7-for-12) with six RBI .... moved into sixth place on Sox all-time career HR list with 122 ..... finished year with a career best .302 average, appeared in 51 games, notched 51 hits.

Major League Highlights: Owns six Comiskey Park roofshots, the most in the major leagues' oldest ballpark. 1988: Served as a designated/pinch hitter for the Cleveland Indians ..... ranked second in the major leagues with one home run every 12.5 at bats (trailing only Ken Phelps of Seattle/New York Yankees who hit one every 12.4 AB) ..... led the major leagues with three pinch-hit homers, the last of which was an 11th-inning game-winner over the Sox at Comiskey Park August 28 ..... the three guest homers equalled the most in the major leagues since Candy Maldonado hit four with the Giants in 1986 and the most by an A.L. player since Jeff Burroughs hit four with Oakland in 1982 ..... led the Tribe with a .533 slugging percentage and was third on the squad with 18 homers ..... belted a homer in his first at bat as an Indian, April 13 off Minnesota's Bert Blyleven ..... appeared in just 18 games in April and May but had four homers in just 51 at bats ..... became the club's regular designated hitter on June 12 ..... remained in that role through July 5 and hit .259 (22-85) with eight home runs and 18 RBI in 22 games ..... in a four-game stretch from June 13-17, "Kitty" hit .615 (8-13) with five home runs (including his 13th and 14th career two-homer games) and seven RBI ..... hit seven homers in 31 at bats from June 13-24 (10 games) ..... split the DH duties in the second half of the season with Terry Francona .... suffered a broken little toe on left foot when struck by a Tommy John pitch September 12 versus New York ..... injury limited him to just three pinch-hitting appearances the rest of the season ..... continued his amazing success versus Blyleven in '88 ..... went three-for-seven with two homers and four RBI ..... hit .385 (5-13) as a pinch-hitter, with three homers and four RBI. 1987: His only full season with the Yankees ..... was enjoying a fine campaign until he suffered an inflamed musculature of his neck and was placed on the 15-day disabled list July 7 ..... had played in 42 games at that point, batting .305 with eight homers and 23 RBI ..... belted his first career inside-the-park home run at Toronto June 29 off John Cerutti ..... played in four games under the injury rehabilitation program at "AAA" Columbus while on the disabled list with his sore neck ..... led the Yankees with a ratio of one homer every 13.25 at bats ..... played just twice in the outfield with one starting assignment. 1986: Began the year with the White Sox and was traded to New York (with Wayne Tolleson and Joel Skinner for Ron Hassey, Carlos Martinez and a player to be named) July 29 ..... composite totals showed 116 games, a .218 batting average, 21 homers and 60 RBI ..... notched four two-homer games with the Sox ..... 100th career homer came April 30 against Baltimore at Comiskey Park. 1985: Hampered by a shoulder injury suffered in a collision with Comiskey Park's left-field wall April 20 ..... struggled for the season's first half, hitting just .191 with eight homers and 17 RBI through August 5 ..... did not hit his first homer until May 7 at Cleveland off Blyleven ..... played with injured shoulder until finally going on the disabled list July 4 ..... spent one week at "AAA" Buffalo on rehabilitative assignment in mid-July ..... two-homer game versus Boston August 8 at Comiskey Park (including his sixth career roofshot) signaled a strong finish for Kittle ..... equalled his career high with an 11-game hitting streak September 1-17 ..... named A.L. player of the week September 9-15 with three homers and a .429 average (9-21) in the six games he played. 1984: Followed his 35-homer rookie-of-the-year season with 32 round-trippers as a sophomore ..... led the Sox in home runs for the second straight year ..... became the first player in history to hit three home runs onto the Comiskey Park roof in one season ..... also poked two pinch-hit homers ..... A.L. player of the week for April 23-29 with a .435 (10-23) batting average, four homers and nine RBI ..... three two-homer games. 1983: Captured A.L. rookie-of-the-year honors with 35 home runs and 100 RBI for the West Division champion White Sox ..... was the fourth Sox player to win the coveted award ..... only White Sox player selected to the victorious American League all-star team in the summer classic at Comiskey Park ..... 35 homers wiped out Sox rookie record of 27 set by Zeke Bonura in 1934 ..... 100 RBI second-best rookie total in White Sox history (Bonura had 110 in '34) ..... most RBI by an A.L. rookie since Fred Lynn (105) and Jim Rice (102) in 1975 ..... joined Greg Luzinski (32 homers) as the most productive home run tandem in White Sox history ..... joined Luzinski and Carlton Fisk (26 homers) as the most prolific home run trio in sox history ..... led the A.L. with 150 strikeouts ..... playoff action ended in game three against Baltimore when Oriole pitcher Mike Flanagan hit Kittle on the left knee ..... hit .286 in the ALCS ..... went one-for-two in the All Star Game. 1982: Appeared in 20 major league games in September after tearing apart the Pacific Coast League ..... made his major league debut September 2 at Comiskey Park against Texas ..... recorded his first big league start and hit (a double) September 4 against the Rangers ..... first major league homer off Minnesota's Frank Viola at the Metrodome October 2.

Minor League Highlights: Recorded some of the gaudiest statistics in memory ..... named 1982 minor league player of the year at "AAA" Edmonton with Pacific Coast League-leading totals of 50 home runs and 144 RBI ..... despite hitting .345, he did not win the triple crown ..... the PCL most valuable player and all-star also led the loop in slugging percentage (.729) ..... his '82 stats gave Kittle a two-season total of 90 home runs, 246 RBI, and a composite .336 batting average for 236 "AA" and "AAA" games ..... also named Eastern League most valuable player in 1981 at Glens Falls with 40 homers and 102 RBI ..... hit .324 but missed the triple crown ..... in 1980 at "A" Appleton, Kittle hit .316 in 61 games and was named to the Midwest League all-star team before being promoted to Glens Falls where he hit .308 in 17 games.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Makes his permanent home in Valparaiso, Ind., just a few miles from his hometown of Gary ..... signed his first professional contract with the Dodgers in 1977 ..... hit poorly and complained of numbness in his right arm ..... problem diagnosed as a pinched nerve in his neck stemming from a pair of crushed vertebrae ..... the unknown injury prompted spinal fusion surgery in 1978 ..... Kittle wore a neck brace for four months ..... the Dodgers, feeling his career was over, released him ..... in September of 1978 while Kittle was working for a construction firm , he was offered a special tryout with the White Sox at Comiskey Park through former Pale Hose pitching great Billy Pierce ..... a graduate of Wirt High School in Gary where he was a three-sport letterman ..... all-Indiana choice in basketball.

Steve Lyons
Infielder/#12

Given name: Stephen John Lyons. Opening Day age: 29, turns 30 June 3. Born: June 3, 1960, Tacoma, Wash. Bats/throws: Left/right. Height/weight: 6-3/192. Major league tenure: Four years, 131 days. Residence: Scottsdale, Ariz. Contract status: Signed thru 1990. Family: Married Lynn Gilday; daughters Kristen (January 21, 1978) and Kori (February 10, 1985). First pro contract: Boston; selected first round, June, 1981 free agent draft. Major league debut: April 15, 1985 with Boston (vs. White Sox). Sox acquisition: Obtained from Boston for pitcher Tom Seaver, June 29, 1986.

1989: Played every position for Pale Hose with the exception of pitcher .... tagged by his teammates as "Mr. Versatility" .... banged first career grand slam on September 9 at Detroit, came off Detroit's Frank Williams .... equalled career game high four RBI on same date,was third time in career for that feat .... drove in career high 50 RBI .... hit .350 on the road in '89 .... had hottest hitting month in June was (23-for-70) .329 .... hit .353 versus Baltimore Orioles (12-for-34) .... knocked in 29 multihit games for ChiSox .... as pinchhitter was 5-for-12 .417 .... recorded ten-game hitting streak from June 20 to July 1 (19-for-41 .463) .... appeared in 140 games, made 110 starts for ChiSox .... added 117 hits, 21 doubles and three triples .... stole career high nine bases .... closed out '89 campaign going 9-for-29 .310 with four RBI over last nine contests.

Major League Highlights: Enjoys game and is known to challenge opposing first baseman in a game of tic-tac-toe. 1988: He and shortstop Ozzie Guillen were the only two Sox players to play 100 or more games at one position in '88 ..... appeared in 128 games at third base and made 102 starts in the hot corner ..... just two starts prior to May 13 but assumed thre regular role as starter from that point on ..... just his second full big league season and his first with the White Sox ..... career-high numbers in almost every offensive category ..... led the entire Sox squad with eight game-winning RBI ..... tied with Dave Gallagher for the club lead in runs scored with 59 ..... fourth on squad with 45 RBI and his batting average of .269 was the fourth best among Sox regulars ..... opened season as Kenny Williams' backup at third base and was used primarily as a late-innings defensive replacement through April and early May ..... amassed just nine at bats through May 10 and six of those came in his first two starting assignments ..... season-long eight-game hitting streak in early June (11-29, .379) ..... hit .327 in the month of June with two homers and 11 RBI ..... one of the circuit clouts was a ninth-inning game-winner versus Kansas City June 20 at Comiskey Park ..... hit two more homers in just a three-day span at Yankee Stadium July 14 and 16 ..... finished the season with a flourish, collecting eight hits in his final four games (8-16) to raise his final average to .269 ..... made a pair of late-season starts at second base (September 21 at Texas and September 23 versus Kansas City) ..... worked out as a catcher in the previous fall's instructional league and made his major league debut behind the plate May 10, replacing an injured Carlton Fisk in the ninth inning at New York ..... also caught the final inning May 15 in an extra-inning affair with Toronto at Comiskey Park ..... the versatile Lyons even pitched for the Sox, but only in the annual exhibition game with the Cubs May 26 at Wrigley Field ..... he and Cubs' catcher Jim Sundberg each pitched the final two innings of the 6-6, 15-inning tie and each allowed no runs on one hit. 1987: Originally assigned to "AAA" Hawaii out of spring training, Lyons was brought back to the White Sox April 9 when Harold Baines was disabled due to knee surgery ..... Lyons had not played a game for Hawaii ..... appeared in just nine games (one right field start) with 10 at bats (0-10) before being optioned back to Hawaii when Baines came off the DL May 8 ..... recalled June 26 and remained with the Pale Hose for the rest of the season ..... immediately assumed starting role at third base against right-handed pitching ..... notched a single-game career-high four hits in his third start with a four-for-five night against Oakland June 30 at Comiskey Park ..... wasted little time logging his second four-hit game, enjoying a perfect four-for-four night at Cleveland July 3 ..... followed that performance with a two-for-four day July 5 at Cleveland ..... that five-game stretch (June 30-July 5) saw Lyons hit at a .588 clip (10-17) with nine runs scored, a double, a triple and three RBI ..... stretched a hitting streak to nine games September 6-19 (11-34, .324) and after one "ofer" he hit in his next three outings ..... three game-winning RBI, including a run-scoring single in the 11th inning at Kansas City September 6 ..... a total of 54 starts, 43 at third base, six in center field, four in left, and one in right ..... only four errors in 138 chances at third for a .971 fielding percentage. 1986: Came to the Sox in the Seaver trade June 29 ..... a .250 hitter in 59 games with the Red Sox, Lyons batted just .203 in 42 outings with the Pale Hose ..... sent to "AAA" Buffalo in mid-August when the Sox needed to make room on their roster after signing outfielder George Foster ..... returned to the Sox in September when the rosters expanded ..... played almost exclusively in the outfield after making his first three White Sox starts at third base ..... enjoyed a career-long 11-game hitting streak at Boston (May 11-25), batting .382 over that stretch (13-34) ..... hit safely in his only at bat in three of those 11 games ..... the skein came right after an 0-22 slump ..... opened 26 May games in center field for the eventual A.L. champion Red Sox in place of the injured Tony Armas. 1985: Made major league debut against the White Sox in Fenway Park April 15 ..... spent full season with the Red Sox ..... played in 112 games and made 88 center field starts ..... batted .264 with five homers and 30 RBI ..... made first start May 27 versus Minnesota and went three-for-five with two home runs and four RBI ..... that remains his only two-homer game in the big leagues ..... broke into the regular lineup June 2 when Armas was sidelined ..... hitting streaks of nine and eight games ..... second on the club with 12 steals in 21 tries ..... had a team-high 11 bunt hits ..... named Red Sox rookie-of-the-year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Minor League Highlights: Batted .287 in 47 contests at "AAA" Hawaii in 1987 in betweena pair of stints with the White Sox ..... played 20 games at "AAA" Buffalo in 1986 after coming to the White Sox organization ..... hit .297 in that short stint ..... primarily a third baseman in 1984 at "AAA" Pawtucket and in 1983 at "AA" New Britain but played the outfield as well ..... clubbed career-high 17 homers and drove in 62 runs in his first "AAA" season in '84 ..... started in the International League all-star game and was named to the post-season league honors team ..... played third base for the first time in 1983 ..... named top defensive third sacker in Eastern League by Baseball America and also earned similar honors at Pawtucket of the International League the following year ..... hit .357 (10-28) in playoffs to help New Britain win the 1983 Eastern League title ..... stole a New Britain record 47 bases ..... made three appearances as a pitcher during an unusual string of doubleheaders and was the winner in an 18-inning game against Albany ..... stole 35 bases at "A" Bristol in 1982 ..... broke into pro ball at "A" Winston-Salem in 1981.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Boston's first-round choice in the June, 1981, free agent draft ..... born in Tacoma, Wash., Lyons played high school baseball and football in both Eugene (Marist High) and Beaverton, Ore. .....attended Oregon State for three years and played baseball for the Beavers ..... also played for Dodge City (Kansas) A's in the Jayhawk Summer League while in college.

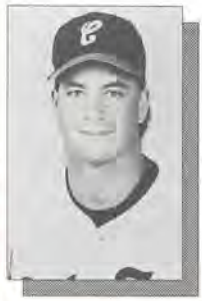
St. Louis Brown's pitcher Lee Pelty was the victor in the first game played in Comiskey Park on July 1, 1910, downing Ed Walsh, 2-0.

Dan Pasqua
Outfielder/#44



Given name (pronunciation): Daniel Anthony Pasqua (PASS-kwuh). Age: 28. Born: October 17, 1961, Yonkers, N.Y. Bats/throws: Left/left. Height/weight: 6-0/203. Major league tenure: Four years, 52 days. Residence: Harrington Park, N.J. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Single. First pro contract: New York Yankees; selected third round, June 1982 free agent draft. Major league debut: May 30, 1985 with New York Yankees (at California). Sox acquisition: Obtained from New York Yankees with catcher Mark Salas and pitcher Steve Rosenberg in exchange for pitchers Richard Dotson and Scott Nielsen, November 13 1987.

1989: Had injury-plagued season ..... was Sox first DL victim of season, missing 32 games after fracturing right wrist in second contest April 6 at Anaheim ..... returned to lineup on May 14 at Baltimore, going 2-for-4 with a double and two RBI ..... banged first homer of season May 29 versus Detroit ..... repeated the next night by hitting second homer against Detroit ..... roundtripper off Tigers' Frank Tanana was his first chiSox homer off a lefthander and also his first Comiskey Park "roof shot" ..... according to IBM "Tale of the Tape," ball traveled 445 feet ..... posted-season low .239 average on June 11, and a season-high .264 on July 26 ..... knocked two homers on June 23 at Milwaukee and drove in three runs, going 2-for-4 ..... matched career-high four RBI on June 20 when he returned to New York to play against former teammates ..... logged a seven-game hitting streak from July 22-28 ..... injured right knee on August 23 and underwent surgery to repair lateral meniscus, missing rest of campaign ..... made appearances in 73 games, started 68 ..... played 49 contests in leftfield, 16 in right and recorded three starts at DH ..... had a fielding percentage of .993 with only one error ..... finished season with a .248 average 11 roundtrippers and 48 RBI ..... took to wearing glasses reguarly for first time in '89.

Major League Highlights: Owns 73 home runs in just 1414 major league at bats, giving him one roundtripper in every 19.4 official trips to the plate. 1988: First full big league season and first with the Pale Hose .... topped the squad with 20 home runs ..... clubbed the 20th on the season's final day at Kansas City to earn team honors, breaking a tie with Carlton Fisk ..... all 20 roundtrippers came against right-handed pitchers ..... notched four two-homer games, giving him six for his career ..... perhaps his biggest homer was a two-run, 10th-inning blast July 3 at Comiskey Park that lifted the Sox to a come-from-behind win over the Yankees, Pasqua's former club ..... notched his first career four-hit game September 18 at Minnesota with a pair of homers and four RBI ..... collected one RBI in each of the first five games of the season ..... did not hit his first homer until April 24 versus Oakland at Chicago and he hit two in that game ..... best month was June when he hit .339 (20-59) with four homers and 11 RBI ..... longest hitting skein of season started at the end of June ..... stretched the streak to 12 games (June 17-July 5), collecting 16 hits in 40 at bats (.400) with four homers and 10 RBI ..... much more plate success in day games, hitting .313 as compared to just .197 at night ..... best success versus Kansas City (.321, four homers, seven RBI) and Minnesota (.364, three homers, seven RBI). 1987: Hit 17 home runs and played in 113 games with the Yankees ..... opened season with Yankees but was sent to "AAA" Columbus for a brief 23-game stay from June 24-July 19 ..... primarily platooned in left field (74 games), also made 12 appearances at first base when Don Mattingly was disabled in June ..... 25 of 74 hits went for extra bases, giving him a slugging percentage of .421 ..... appeared in 20 games as a designated hitter, batting .211 with just two homers and only five RBI ..... hit three pinch-hit homers, tying him with California's George Hendrick and Texas' Darrell Porter for the American League leadership in that category ..... first guest homer was a ninth-inning, two-run shot off Calvin Schiraldi at Boston June 19 that helped to send the game into extra innings ..... added a double in next trip that night and tied his career high with four RBI for the game ..... second pinch homer was one White Sox fans won't forget ..... the blast came July 26 at Comiskey Park off Richard Dotson in the eighth inning ..... Mike Pagliarulo spoiled Dotson's bid for Comiskey Park's first perfect game with a one-out single in the eighth and, after a Mike Easler double, Pasqua put the Yankees ahead with his three-run homer to the upper deck in right field ..... final pinch homer came on season's final day, October 4 against Baltimore's Tom Niedenfuer ..... longest hitting streak was an eight-gamer August 8-19 (10-30, .333, 4 home runs, 7 RBI) ..... seven of 42 RBI were game-winners. 1986: Opened season at "AAA" Columbus after a poor (.104) spring training ..... recalled by the Yankees May 18 ..... hit a two-run homer off Oakland's Eric Plunk May 21 in his first start of the season ..... his four RBI that night matched his career high ..... belted two homers the next night at Oakland, the second two-homer game of his career ..... connected for first career pinch-hit home run July 11 at Minnesota ..... first career inside-the-park homer came the next night at Minnesota ..... career-long 12-game hitting streak August 9-23 ..... hit .364 (16-44) with 4 doubles, 2 homers, and 6 RBI, including 2 GWRBI, during the streak ..... average hovered around .300 for most of the season and finished with a career-high .293 mark ..... averaged one homer for every 17.5 at bats, the best on the Yankee squad. 1985: Made big league debut May 30 when recalled from "AAA" Columbus after Henry Cotto was disabled ..... first major league hit was a home run in his second major league at bat May 30 at California off Ron Romanick ..... optioned back to Columbus June 17 ..... recalled again July 11 ..... hit two home runs in the second game after his recall July 12 versus Texas ..... both of those blasts were right-field upper deck shots at Yankee Stadium ..... returned to Columbus for final time August 5 ..... back with Yankees August 16 ..... notched four RBI in one game for first time August 25 at Seattle ..... hit four homers in six games September 3-10 with 10 RBI.

Minor League Highlights: Named player-of-the-year in the Appalachian League in his first pro season at Paintsville in 1982 ..... led the league with 16 home runs ..... hit 19 homers and drove in 84 runs at "A" Fort Lauderdale in 1983, making one brief stop at "AAA" Columbus ..... spent the entire 1984 season at "AA" Nashville and led the Sounds with a professional career-high 33 home runs and 91 RBI ..... owned a .502 slugging percentage that season ..... named the International League rookie-of-the-year and most valuable player in 1985 despite playing in only 78 games at Columbus ..... Pasqua hit .321 with 18 home runs and 69 RBI in those 78 contests ..... started '86 season at Columbus and clubbed six homers and 20 RBI in just 32 games with the Clippers ..... collected six homers and 15 RBI in just 23 games at Columbus during brief minor league stint in 1987.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Attended Old Tappan High School in New Jersey, where he played football and baseball ..... an all-America selection in baseball at William Paterson College in both 1981 and '82.

Comiskey Park Flashback

Near disasters? Comiskey Park has had a few. On June 7, 1974, a fire broke out in the main commisary under the right field grandstand forcing evacuation. 3,000 fans were led onto the field in an orderly manner while the Fire Department extinguished the blaze.

Ken Patterson
Pitcher/#34

Given name: Kenneth Brian Patterson. Opening Day age: 25, turns 26 July 8. Born: July 8, 1964, Costa Mesa, Calif. Bats/throws: Left/left. Height/weight: 6-4/210. Major league tenure: One year and 35 days. Residence: McGregor, Tex. Contract status: Signed thru 1990. Family: Single. First pro contract: New York Yankees; selected in third round, June 1985 free agent draft. Sox acquisition: Obtained from New York Yankees along with a minor league player to be named later (pitcher Jeff Pries) in exchange for infielder Jerry Royster and a minor league player to be named later (infielder Mike Soper) August 26, 1987.

1989: Made Sox pitching staff out of spring training ..... the hard-throwing-lefthander recorded his first major league win on April 6 at California ..... tossed 3.2 innings, yielded one hit, struck out one ..... made only start of season on June 22 at New York, recording a no-decision ..... picked up second win on May 17 at Detroit ..... hurled 3.1 innings ..... optioned to Vancouver on May 21 ..... threw

9.0 innings with Canadians in two starts, recorded one no-decision and one loss, struck out 17 ..... recalled on June 1 ..... after recall posted a 4-1 ledger ..... registered career-high five strikeouts on August 20 at Texas ..... notched three-game win streak from April 6 to June 7 ..... posted 3-0 record verus West and 3-1 versus East ..... recorded string of eight scoreless appearances July 7 to August 16 ..... had string snapped August 20 versus Texas ..... finished season with overall 6-1 record and a 4.52 ERA ..... made appearances in 50 games with one start ..... threw 65.2 frames, struck out 43 ..... one of only two Sox pitchers to post a winning record.

Major League Highlights: 1988: Spent most of the season at Vancouver but did work in nine games over two stints with the Sox ..... first tour with Sox came in early July just prior to the All-Star break ..... made big league debut with 3.2 scoreless innings of relief against Boston in the second game of a doubleheader July 8 at Comiskey Park ..... worked again in the nightcap of a twinbill the following night versus the Red Sox but was returned to Vancouver during the break ..... recalled September 2 when rosters expanded ..... seven appearances, including a pair of starts, in the season's final month ..... first major league decision came in first game back, a 4-3, 13-inning loss at Cleveland September 2 ..... other loss came in first big league start September 13 versus Milwaukee in Chicago ..... start was unexpected as he replaced the flu-stricken Jeff Bittiger, the Sox' scheduled starter ..... made a scheduled start September 18 at Minnesota but was not involved in the decision ..... notched first and only major league save September 11 versus Minnesota at Comiskey Park with a perfect ninth inning.

Minor League Highlights: A third-round choice by the Yankees in the June 1985 free agent draft ..... made professional debut at Oneonta of the New York-Penn League in '85 and posted a 2-2 record in six starts .....led the New York-Penn League in shutouts with four and posted a league-best 1.35 ERA in 1986 ..... was 9-3 in 15 starts for Oneonta and had 102 strikeouts in just 100.1 innings ..... named to the league all-star team and was a Topps all-star ..... opened the 1987 season at "A" Fort Lauderdale and was promoted to "AA" Albany June 6 ..... converted from a starter to a reliever in July and posted impressive numbers out of the bullpen ..... Patterson was 2-1 with a 1.92 ERA and five saves in 16 relief appearances at Albany prior to the trade to the Sox organization ..... overall, his Albany slate showed a 3-6 record and 3.96 ERA in 24 games ..... reported to "AAA" Hawaii after the trade and earned two saves in just three appearances.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Drafted by the Yankees after a fine career at Baylor University of the baseball-strong Southwest Conference ..... born in California, Patterson now makes his home in McGregor, Tex.

Melido Perez
Pitcher/#33

Given name: Melido Perez. Age: 24. Born: February 15, 1966, San Cristobal, Dominican Republic. Bats/throws: Right/right. Height/weight: 6-4/180. Major league tenure: Two years, 34 days. Residence: San Cristobal, Dominican Republic. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Married. First pro contract: Kansas City Royals; signed as free agent July 22, 1983. Major league debut: September 4, 1987 with Kansas City (vs. White Sox). Sox acquisition: Obtained with pitchers John Davis, Chuck Mount and Greg Hibbard from Kansas City in exchange for pitcher Floyd Bannister and infielder Dave Cochrane December 10, 1987.

1989: Led Sox in wins (11) and losses (14) with most starts on staff (31) ..... started season with a victory in season debut ..... April 8 at Oakland hurled 5.2 innings, yielded five hits with two runs/earned, struck out six ..... suffered losses in three of next five starts from April 14 to May 5 ..... notched second win on May 9 at Milwaukee, hurling Sox to 12-2 victory over Brewers ..... was 3-0 for season against Brew Crew ..... pitched into seventh inning on eleven occasions ..... recorded career game-high 12 strikeouts on June 23 at Milwaukee ..... equalled that feat on September 15 versus California while limiting Angels batters to two hits ..... two-hitter tied career low as he pitched his first complete contest of the season ..... 12 strikeouts were best on team as was two-hitter ..... had up and down season as he suffered four-game losing skid from June 2-16 ..... from June 23 to July 21 was 4-1 ..... closed out season with same record in month of September ..... won four consecutive games from September 3 to 20, tying career best win streak of four which was established in 1988 ..... suffered lone defeat in month on September 26 versus Minnesota, his last appearance in '89 ..... led ChiSox staff with 183.1 innings pitched and 141 strikeouts ..... hurled two complete games, which tied him with Greg Hibbard, Richard Dotson and Steve Rosenberg for team lead ..... finished season with a team-high 5.01 ERA.

Major League Highlights: Made his major league debut September 4, 1987 with Kansas City against the White Sox ..... won that initial outing, his only win with Royals. 1988: Placed sixth in the American League rookie-of-the-year balloting after a 12-10 season ..... first Sox rookie to post 10 or more wins since Britt Burns and Richard Dotston turned the trick in 1980 ..... his 32 starts, 197.0 innings, and 138 strikeouts topped the club ..... jumped out to a 3-0 start and did not lose until dropping a 2-1 decision May 18 at Cleveland ..... improved record to 5-1 and ERA stood at 3.30 at the end of May ..... first complete game in a 4-1 win over Toronto May 13 at Comiskey Park ..... allowed just three hits and one earned run on a ninth-inning Fred McGriff home run ..... dropped four of his next five decisions to fall to 6-5 ..... a perfect month of July (4-0, 3.86 ERA) raised his record to 10-5 and made him a strong rookie-of-the-year candidate ..... went just 2-5 with five no-decisions the rest of the way ..... capped off season with his finest outing October 1 at Kansas City ..... blanked his former team on just two hits, walked none, and struck out a career-high 10 in a 3-0 White Sox win .....the two-hitter was the best on the Sox staff in '88 as were the 10 whiffs ..... despite the season-ending 2-5 slump, Perez posted a 3.50 ERA during the stretch ..... owned two of the five complete-game victories on the Sox staff and was the only hurler with more than one distance win ..... his three complete games shared the staff lead with Bill Long ..... the shutout at Kansas City in his final start was one of just two individual shutouts tossed by Sox pitchers in '88 (Dave LaPoint blanked Boston April 28 in Chicago) ..... fashioned a 6-0 record and 3.33 ERA in day games ..... just 6-10 with a 3.95 ERA under the lights ..... also fared better at home, compiling a 6-2 record and 3.52 ERA at Comiskey Park compared to a 6-8 mark and 4.03 ERA on the road. 1987: Made three starts with the Royals in September and had one win, one loss and one no-decision ..... the victory came in his big league debut September 4 versus the White Sox at Royals Stadium ..... worked seven full innings and was touched for only one unearned run on six hits ..... did not pitch again until September 14 against California at Kansas City ..... no-decision that night, allowing five earned runs on six hits in two innings ..... final start, also at home, came September 19 versus Oakland ..... lasted just 1.1 innings and was touched for four earned runs and six hits and took the loss.

Minor League Highlights: Broke into pro baseball in 1984 at "A" Charleston of the South Atlantic League ..... spent the '85 season at "A" Eugene of the Northwest League and led the loop in innings pitched (101.0) and was fourth in strikeouts (88) ..... moved to long-season "A" Burlington in 1986 and led the Midwest League in complete games with 13 in 23 starts ..... his 153 strikeouts topped the squad ..... spent portions of the '87 season at both "A" Fort Myers and "AA" Memphis in the Royals' farm system before making the jump to the big leagues in September when major league rosters expanded ..... owned a combined 12-8 record and 3.09 ERA at the Fort Myers and Memphis stops ..... exercised incredible control, walking just 27 batters and registering 177 strikeouts in 198 innings with those two clubs.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Younger brother of New York's Pascual Perez ..... attended San Gregorio de Nigua High School in the Dominican Republic.

Given name: Jack Burns McDowell. Age: 24. Born: January 16, 1966, Van Nuys, Calif. Bats/throws: Right/right. Height/weight: 6-5/179. Major league tenure: One year, 22 days. Residence: Van Nuys, Calif. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Single. First pro contract: White Sox. Major league debut: September 15, 1987 with the White Sox (vs. Minnesota). Sox acquisition: Selected in first round (fifth in nation), June 1987 free agent draft.

1989: Opened the season with "AAA" Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League ..... went to "Rookie" Sarasota on June 8 for rehabilitation of hip problem ..... had 2-0 record with 0.75 ERA in four games before returning to the Canadians on July 13 ..... owned 5-6 mark over 16 starts at Vancouver.

Major League Highlights: Did not allow a run in his first 13.1 major league innings .... impressive 3-0 record with a 1.93 ERA in four starts in his big league baptism in Spetember 1987. 1988: Rookie struggled in his first full big league season but finished with a respectable 3.97 ERA ..... record stood at 5-10 before a strained right hip muscle ended his season August 31 ..... first major league loss (after three impressive wins in short stint at the end of the '87 campaign) came in his second '88 start at California April 12 ..... won at Oakland April 17 to push his career mark to 4-1 ..... became part of history April 29 when he lost a 9-0 verdict to Baltimore at Comiskey Park, where the Orioles snapped a major league record 21-game season-opening losing streak ..... evened his record at 2-2 with a win over two-time defending Cy Young Award winner Roger Clemens at Boston May 4 ..... did not post another win until June 26 at Texas when he snapped a personal four-game losing streak ..... first and only big league complete game came in a 6-2 loss at Cleveland May 17 ..... four times he held opponents to one run or less for eight innings or more and was not part of the decision ..... blanked Milwaukee on just six hits for nine innings in Sox' 1-0, 10-inning win June 10 at Chicago ..... held the Yankees to one run on three hits for eight innings in Sox' 2-1 win at Comiskey Park July 1 ..... shut out Seattle on only six hits for eight innings in Sox' 1-0, 11-inning success July 26 at Comiskey Park ..... limited the Athletics to one run on five hits in a 2-1, 10-inning Sox loss at Oakland August 10 ..... just 1-2 in the month of July but owned a fine 2.89 ERA. 1987: Busy year began as ace starting pitcher for Stanford University ..... season ended with McDowell posting a 3-0 record and 1.93 ERA in four starts with the White Sox ..... in between were a pair of championships for McDowell's clubs ..... led Stanford to the College World Series title in June, earning the victory in the championship game against Oklahoma State June 7 ..... helped the "AA" Birmingham Barons capture the Southern League crown in early September (see details below) ..... made major league debut September 15 against the eventual World Series champion Minnesota Twins at Comiskey Park ..... blanked the Twins on four hits through seven innings and earned a 6-2 victory ..... struck out three and walked none in his very impressive debut ..... followed that baptism with another strong outing in a 5-3 win over Seattle September 20 at Comiskey Park ..... third outing was even more impressive but he did not get a decision in Sox' 2-1, 10-inning win at Oakland September 25 ..... with several of his college teammates from nearby Stanford in attendance at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, McDowell hurled seven shutout innings and allowed the pennant-contending Athletics just a pair of harmless singles ..... struck out seven and walked three ..... left game with Sox ahead 1-0 but a Mark McGwire ninth-inning home run off reliever Bobby Thigpen took the win away from McDowell ..... earned his third victory in final start of season, a 6-3 verdict over California October 1 at Comiskey Park ..... four-start totals showed 15 strikeouts and only six walks in 28 innings ..... allowed just six earned runs in those 28 frames and one homer.

Minor League Highlights: Broke into professional baseball in August 1987 at "Rookie" Sarasota after coming to contract terms with the White Sox ..... was 0-1 in two games (one start) in his brief stay at Sarasota ..... promoted to "AA" Birmingham August 13 where he played a role in the Barons' Southern League title run ..... starting and winning pitcher in Birmingham's first opening-round playoff game against Huntsville, a 15-2 decision ..... five hits, two earned runs, eight strikeouts, three walks in six innings in that win ..... no-decision in other post-season appearance versus Charlotte in the championship series (4.2 innings, seven hits, two earned runs, four strikeouts, four walks).

Miscellaneous/Personal: Received national acclaim after leading the Stanford Cardinals to the 1987 College World Series title in Omaha, Neb. ..... finished 2-1 in the CWS ..... owned a 13-5 slate for the season, his third at Stanford ..... owned five complete games and one shutout in 20 starts ..... notched 120 strikeouts in just 128.2 innings ..... three-year Stanford career record, including two trips to the CWS, was 35-13 with a 3.58 ERA ..... struck out 337 batters in 392.2 innings for a ratio of 7.7 K's per nine innings pitched ..... six collegiate shutouts and 21 complete games in 52 starts ..... by year, McDowell finished 11-4, 4.15 ERA (freshman), 11-4, 2.51 ERA (sophomore) and 13-5, 4.13 ERA (junior) ..... two-time Pacific-10 all-conference selection ..... holds Stanford's career strikeout record of 337, breaking four-year mark of 315 set by Baltimore's Jeff Ballard ..... a native of Van Nuys, Calif., McDowell graduated from Notre Dame High in his hometown.

Some $33,352 was collected and turned over to the armed forces to help in the war relief effort.

Greg Walker
First Baseman/#29

Given name: Gregory Lee Walker. Age: 30. Born: October 6, 1959, Douglas, Ga. Bats/throws: Left/right. Height/weight: 6-3/215. Major league tenure: Seven years, 19 days. Residence: Douglas, Ga. Contract status: Signed through 1990. Family: Married Carman Kirkland; daughters Kaycee (October 17, 1979) and Leigh Ann (January 16, 1984). First pro contract: Philadelphia Phillies; selected 20th round, June 1977 free agent draft. Major league debut: September 16, 1982 with the White Sox (vs. Oakland). Sox acquisition: Selected from Philadelphia organization in minor league draft December 4, 1979.

1989: Following a promising spring training had season plagued by injuries ..... hit .308 (20-65/seven homers/15 RBI) in Grapefruit League ..... strained left hip flexor placed him on DL April 28 ..... reactivated on May 13 ..... had nagging shoulder problems all year ..... had surgery on right shoulder October 10 to repair an anterior subluxation ..... appeared in only 77 games, the lowest total of his major league career apart from rookie season in 1982 ..... batted .210 with five home runs and 26 RBI, all career lows ..... had seven-game hitting streak (June 17-23) ..... batted .391 (9 of 23) during that stretch, including two doubles, a home run and three RBI ..... outrighted to Vancouver on October 12th.

Major League Highlights: Has spent his entire major league career with the White Sox, breaking in during the latter part of the 1982 campaign ..... his 113 lifetime homers are the seventh most in Sox history and his career .453 slugging percentage is also seventh best ..... 1988 season ended July 30 when he was felled by a seizure during batting practice at Comiskey Park ..... that seizure and a similar one later that night were caused by what was diagnosed as a viral infection in his brain ..... subsequent medication forced him to miss the remainder of the season ..... batted .247 in his 99 games with eight home runs and 42 RBI ..... connected for just two homers through June 24 but hit his final six in a 19-game span between June 25 and July 16 ..... nine RBI in a six-game stretch (April 10-17) ..... after homering off Boston's Roger Clemens at Fenway Park May 4, Walker did not hit another roundtripper until June 25 at Texas off Dale Mohorcic, 44 games and 170 at bats later. 1987: Despite a slow start (.100 batting average in April), led the Sox with career-high totals in home runs (27) and RBI (94) ..... strong months of August (.286) and September/October (.294) raised his final average to a season-best .256 ..... belted 100th career homer September 23 at California ..... concluded season with a six-game hitting streak (9-22, .409) and logged hits in 17 of his last 20 games (27-79, .342) ..... avoided the major injuries that plagued him in 1986 ..... played in 157 games with 150 starts at first base ..... started the season with hits in his first three games, then suffered an 0-25 slump that did not end until April 17 at Detroit ..... just 7-70 (.100) in April and did not register his first two-hit game until May 1 at Baltimore ..... a four-game hitting streak May 1-4 (6-13, .462) pointed him in the right direction ..... strung together a nine-game hitting streak in mid-May and finished the month with a five-game skein to give him a .313 batting mark for May and raise his overall average to .223 ..... first and only four-hit game of season came June 19 at Minnesota to match career single-game high for the third time ..... two home runs at Texas June 1, the fifth two-homer game of his career ..... hit 13 of 27 home runs off left-handed pitching, his best career power effort against southpaws ..... knocked seven homers against Texas with 21 RBI ..... clubbed the team's only grand slam home run at Texas June 2, his second career bases-loaded clout ..... hit homers in back-to-back games four times and stretched it to three straight games once (May 16, 17, and 19) ..... belted game-winning homer in 10th inning against Oakland July 1 at Comiskey Park . 1986: Season cut in half by two injuries to his right hand and wrist ..... suffered hairline fracture of the wrist in season's seventh game versus Detroit April 14 in Chicago ..... slipped on wet grass while fielding a bunt and landed on the wrist ..... had hit homers in his first two at bats the night he was injured ..... placed on the disabled list and did not return until May 14 ..... season ended in early August when he broke hamate bone in his right hand ..... the injury required late-season surgery ..... managed to play 78 games around the injuries and hit 13 homers with 51 RBI ..... hit safely in his first four games of the year, seven of his first nine, and 18 of his first 24 ..... longest hitting streak was an eight-gamer from July 24 through August 1 ..... recorded the second four-hit game of career May 23 at Kansas City ..... two homers April 14 marked fourth career two-home run game ..... one-for-three as a pinch-hitter but that one guest hit was a two-run homer at Toronto June 1 ..... blasted first career grand slam June 23 at Comiskey Park off Minnesota's Bert Blyleven ..... seven of 13 homers came with at least one runner on base ..... the injury in April snapped his consecutive game streak at 178, dating back to the 1984 season ..... never went more than three games without a base hit. 1985: The only Sox player to appear in all 163 games (equalling club record established by Don Buford in 1966) ..... 163 games led A.L. ..... 24 homers and 92 RBI were then career highs ..... season-high 11-game hitting streak (16-46, .348) September 22-October 2 ..... shared club lead in GWRBI with Harold Baines and Carlton Fisk at 13 ..... 10 of his 13 GWRBI by July 8 and led the A.L. in that category for much of the season's first half ..... recorded a game-winning single and a deciding homer on back-to-back nights in May versus Cleveland and Baltimore after intentional walks were issued to Baines directly in front of him ..... belted dramatic, two-run, two-out homer in the bottom of the ninth inning to keep Sox alive in a 12-inning, come-from-behind victory over Oakland June 19 while the Sox held first place in the A.L. West ..... started 152 games, all but five at first base ..... the other five came as designated hitter ..... committed only eight errors and ranked among the best A.L. first basemen in fielding percentage with a .994 mark ..... tied Kansas City's George Brett with 38 doubles, fifth in A.L. ..... 66 extra-base hits tied the Royals' Steve Balboni for league's seventh spot. 1984: Blossomed into the everyday White Sox first baseman ..... enjoyed an outstanding sophomore season, hitting .294 with 24 home runs and 75 RBI ..... 24 homers were tops by a Pale Hose first baseman since Dick Allen clubbed 32 in 1974 ..... hit .308 during the second half ..... closed with a surge, batting .381 (37-97) in September with six homers and 20 RBI to earn American League player-of-the-month honors ..... September was his fourth month of .300 or better hitting ..... hit .300 in April, .301 in June, and .315 in August ..... finished second on the club in batting average and RBI ..... third in home runs ..... second only to Harold Baines in multiple-hit games with 36 ..... owned the club's second longest hitting streak at 14 games ..... also won A.L. player-of-the-week honor for his play of September 3-9 when he hit .520 with five homers and 11 RBI, including a pair of three-hit games ..... three homers in a two-game span at Milwaukee August 4 and 6 ..... surprised with his fielding improvement, committing only four errors in 846 total chances and sporting a .995 fielding percentage. 1983: Appeared in two ALCS games against Baltimore, pinch-hitting in game two and starting at first base in game four ..... collected one hit and one walk in four plate appearances in the fourth game ..... after his second consecutive outstanding spring, Walker won the Opening Day starting assignment at first base ..... committed two errors on Opening Day at Texas, prompting manager Tony La Russa to be more gradual in introducing Walker to everyday play ..... used primarily as a pinch hitter and led the American League with 15 pinch RBI ..... made 42 pinch appearances, second only to Jerry Hairston, and hit a club-high .371, including two home runs ..... employed as designated hitter 21 times, batting .311 in that role (23-74) with three homers and six RBI. 1982: Injuries to White Sox first basemen Tom Paciorek and Mike Squires prompted an unexpected call for Walker September 15 ..... Walker had finished his season at Edmonton and had been home in Georgia for nearly two-and-one-half weeks ..... made his major league debut September 16 at Comiskey Park with a pinch single in his first big league at bat ..... batted in eight games the final two weeks of the season and hit safely in six, including his last five ..... appeared in 11 games altogether, hitting .412 with two home runs and seven RBI ..... first major league home run came at Comiskey Park September 27 off Seattle's Bob Stoddard.

Minor League Highlights: Spent only 35 games at the "AAA" level, all in 1982 ..... grand plan had him penciled in as the regular first sacker for Sox' "AAA" affiliate at Edmonton, but a broken right wrist knocked him out of action for three months (April 22-July 23) ..... still hit .350 with three homers and 12 RBI ..... suffered the wrist injury on a tag play at first base ..... the everyday first baseman for the White Sox' most successful 1981 farm club, the Glens Falls (N.Y.) White Sox, winner of both halves of the North Division of the "AA" Eastern League ..... Walker finished third in the loop in hitting (.321) while leading the circuit in runs (117), hits (163) and doubles (33) ..... also hit 22 homers ..... led the "A" Midwest League in RBI with 98 while at Appleton in 1980 ..... spent first three pro years in the Phillies' farm system.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Originally signed by the Philadelphia Phillies' organization ..... left unprotected in the annual minor league draft in December of 1979 ..... standout baseball and football player at Coffee High School in his native Douglas, Ga., where he still makes his permanent home ..... White Sox nominee for 1986 Roberto Clemente Award for humanitarian work ..... received the Chicago Baseball Writers' "Good Guy" Award at the January 1990 Diamond Dinner.

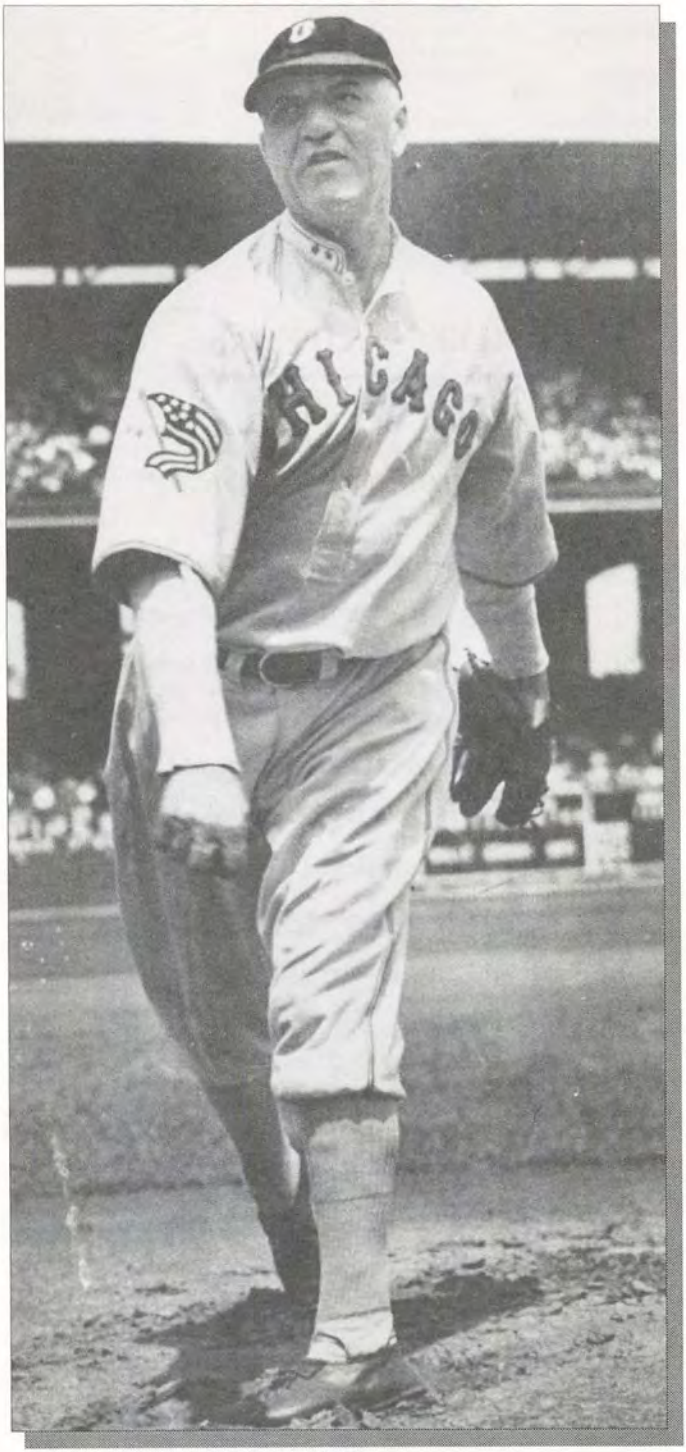
HISTORY



White Sox Hall of Famer pitcher Red Faber.

FRANCHISE HISTORY

Comiskey and Chicago. Three generations. One hundred years of tradition. The White Sox. The team remains on the South Side today as a testament to the Comiskey Legacy.

Like many other poor and broken victims of the Irish Potato Famine, John Comiskey moved his worldly belongings to Chicago in 1848. He soon distinguished himself in municipal government, first as County Clerk, then later as Democratic Alderman from the old tenth ward. His son Charles was born in 1859, and was later apprenticed to a plumber. John Comiskey, like other men of his generation, believed there was not much good in this street game called baseball. Fortunately, his son had other ideas.

After knocking around the city leagues for a while, playing with the Libertys, Pastimes and Mutuals, young Comiskey took over the first base duties for Chris von der Ahe's St. Louis Browns in the renegade American Association. This upstart league was one of several interlopers challenging the National League for baseball supremacy in the 1880's. The Browns were a rough and tumble outfit, and the owner an eccentric millionaire. But they set the baseball world on its ear when they defeated Cap Anson's 1886 White Stockings in the precursor of the modern World Series. Comiskey left St. Louis in 1890 to captain the Chicago entry in the newly formed Player's League. However, the venture was doomed to failure, and Comiskey appeared to be at the end of his baseball rope when Byron Bancroft Johnson came calling.

Comiskey was persuaded to invest his meager savings in a new eight-team circuit known as the Western League. Its member teams included Toledo, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Indianapolis and Sioux City. For reasons that are unclear, Comiskey decided to purchase the ailing Sioux City club and transfer it to St. Paul, where a spirited rivalry would develop with Minneapolis. The team became known as the Saints, and they finished in the first division of the Western League in four of the five years of Comiskey's stewardship.

The prosperous Western League attracted the attention of the National League moguls. In a brazen attempt to gain autonomy in the Chicago marketplace, Chicago Cub (nee White Stockings) owner James Hart attempted to purchase a franchise to use as a "farm." Johnson would have none of it, for he had designs on the Chicago territory himself.

The American League was actually born in a smoke-filled room in the old Great Northern Hotel over the winter of 1899-1900. Comiskey maneuvered Hart into a corner, and secured a promise from the Cub magnate that he would not interfere or block the transfer of the Saints to Chicago. (By terms of existing trade agreements, the Western League was subordinated to the Nationals.) In return, Hart insisted that the team locate south of 35th Street, and refrain from using the name of Chicago in its dealings. Comiskey acceded to this timid request, but discreetly told reporters that his team would be called the "White Stockings." Nothing had been stipulated about nicknames.

In their first year the nameless White Stockings won the pennant, but they had no one to play in the post-season. Veterans, rookies and other assorted misfits filled out the roster. The fans enjoyed the hustling, if not always polished, style of this club. It was reflected in the attendance.

Flushed with success, Ban Johnson called off all bets and declared his American League to be the second major league. Instead of sacrificing his players to the N.L. draft, Johnson instructed his owners to raid their franchises for top stars. Comiskey recruited Jimmy Callahan, Sandow Mertes and Clark Griffith from the Cubs. The 1901 Sox inaugurated the "official" American League with a second straight pennant. Adding insult to injury was the presence of the "Old Fox," Clark Griffith, who managed the 1901 edition.

Griffith departed the Sox after the 1902 season to accept the managerial reins of the New York Highlanders. Comiskey appointed Jimmy Callahan to guide the club. Callahan was like a prodigal son to Comiskey. He suspended the recalcitrant outfielder at least a half-dozen times for various offenses, but each time Callahan was welcomed back into the fold. But he had little to work with in 1903. The team was bereft of talent, and Comiskey was compelled to demote Jimmy in favor of Fielder Allison Jones who had patrolled center field. Jones was a fiery innovator who delivered immediate results. Credited with inventing the "motion" infield and "body twist" slide, Jones fashioned a style of play that would characterize White Sox seasons for the next 60 or so years.

The Jonesmen defined the "Hitless Wonders" era. A total reliance on pitching, defense and speed kept the Sox in contention until the last week of the season from 1904 through 1908. These were years of glory on the south side, where the franchise was interwoven into the fabric of the community and the lives of the Irish immigrants who lived there. Guiding an injury-riddled club with virtually no hitting, Jones captured the only all-Chicago World Series in 1906. His powerful crosstown rivals won 116 games that year. The White Sox were fortunate to win 93, which included a 19-game streak that ultimately put them over the top. It was a club laced with dissension. Jones was a stern taskmaster who frequently came to blows with his players. But he understood talent. Jones made a winner out of erratic Ed Walsh, and he took Nick Altrock and Doc White, a pair of southpaws who had been released by other teams, and inserted them into the starting rotation.

After a heart-breaking near miss in 1908, Jones stepped down to pursue other interests. The "Old Roman" soon realized that the same team minus its leader was good for about fourth place. And that's where the Sox hovered for the next five years. Not even Jimmy Callahan, resurrected from Chicago's semi-pro leagues in 1912, could interrupt this treadmill of .500 baseball. It wasn't until after Comiskey's celebrated World Tour of 1914 that things began to click on the south side. Buoyed by the notoriety the White Sox received while touring the capitals of Europe, the "Old Roman" returned to Chicago to commence the long-awaited rebuilding process. He supplemented a trio of talented youngsters that included Red Faber, Buck Weaver and Ray Schalk with some proven veterans, purchased at great expense from Cleveland and Philadelphia. Princeton-educated Eddie Collins quickly became a fixture at second base. Shoeless Joe Jackson, second only to Cobb as the league's premier batsman, displaced Shano Collins in left field. The stage was set for the second great epoch in Sox history, the Black Sox era.

In 1917, the White Sox won a hundred games for the only time in their history as they routed the New York Giants in the World Series. The victories came easy. There was nothing one-dimensional about this club, and it earned the plaudits of the Chicago press corps. In 1919, the Sox claimed another pennant, but they made headlines of another sort when seven of their best players and one substitute were implicated in throwing the World Series to the Cincinnati Reds. The news of a Grand Jury probe hit the newspapers on September 29, 1920, and soon a great team would be left to the ages.

The "Black Sox," as they came to be called, were acquitted in a court of law but were banished from active participation in the game by the baseball establishment. The scandal had far-reaching consequences for the team and its many loyal fans.

The White Sox were destined to wander the desert for the next 30 years. Comiskey attempted to rebuild his club like he always had, purchasing the top stars of the game and some choice rookies from the high minors. It had worked before. . .it would work again. For the 1921 season the "Old Roman" secured the services of Harry Hooper, future Hall of Famer. He bought the entire starting infield of the Salt Lake City team of the P.C.L. with disappointing results. Later in the decade, Willie Kamm, Ted Lyons, and Bill Cissell joined the Sox in much the same way. But for every Kamm or Luke Appling to display some flash, there was a Maurice Archdeacon or Mike Cvengros to disappoint. The writers and the fans took pity.

But sentiment and memories of the past could not sustain Comiskey, who took a less active role in the day-to-day management of the club. The "Old Roman" passed away in October 1931, his reputation and integrity forever impugned by the events of 1919-1920.

It was a sad, undeserved fate for the old baseball pioneer. Prior to the scandal Comiskey was one of the most revered figures in Chicago. But in the intervening years his crucial role in the founding of the American League would largely be forgotten.

His son J. Louis and long-time General Manager Harry Grabiner formulated a secret plan to rebuild from the ashes. During the 1932 World Series an agreement was reached with Connie Mack to purchase three of his best players: Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas. It was a deal reminiscent of the Jackson-Collins acquisition, but still it did not solve the lingering problems.

After mixed results in 1933, Comiskey realized that trades and purchases were not enough. During the mid and late 1930's, the first White Sox farm system was developed. And by decade's end it began to bear some fruit. Luke Appling won the first of two batting titles in 1936. Cigar-smoking Jimmy Dykes took over as manager and proved why he was the best captain of the ship since Jones. Under his tutelage, Vern Kennedy, John Rigney, Bill Dietrich, and Thornton Lee proved to be capable starters behind Lyons. "Iron" Mike Kreevich and "Rip" Radcliff made the latter 1930's interesting on the south side. The third-place finish of 1936 was the highest for the ballclub since the lamented days of the Black Sox. Modest achievements to be sure, but the Comiskey family had good reason to look to the future with optimism.

The late Warren Brown once remarked in the pages of the American that if the impossible were to happen, it would, in all likelihood, happen to the White Sox. Brown's words proved to be prophetic, especially during the years following the 1936-1937 resurgence. The tragic, career-ending injury to Monty Stratton, the death of J. Lou in 1939, and the disastrous effects of World War II plunged the team into another extended period of losing. Minus the calming presence of J. Lou, the Sox front office struggles magnified the larger failures on the field. Harry Grabiner departed for Cleveland in 1945, and his successor Les O'Connor promptly got the Sox evicted from the American League. These strange circumstances resulted from the improper signing of a Chicago prep pitcher named George Zoeterman. The commissioner fined the defiant Sox G.M. $500.00, which he refused to pay on principle. Then, for about a day, the Sox found themselves evicted from the American League until young Chuck Comiskey stepped in to pay the fine.

This was the peculiar state of affairs the Sox found themselves in when Frank Lane took over for O'Connor at the end of the 1948 season. Lane and young Comiskey struggled through 1949 and 1950 before the fruit bore harvest. The great revival was keyed by the hiring of a young genius from Waxahachie, Texas—Paul Richards. The gambling front office trio with nothing to lose and everything to gain engineered a series of trades that helped usher in the "Go-Go" era. The familiar cry around the ballyard of "C'mon, Luke!" was replaced with the now famous "Go-Go" chant which encouraged such base thieves as Minnie Minoso, Jim Rivera and Luis Aparicio.

They built the club around the spacious contours of Comiskey Park, with an accent on pitching, defense and speed. It was an uncommon style of play in that decade of lead-footed sluggers and teams that lived and died with the home run. Still, it was not enough to carry them over the top. At least not until Al Lopez arrived on the scene at the end of the '56 season. The genial senor took a team that had played in the shadow of the mighty Yankees for most of the decade to their first pennant in 40 years.

In the 1959 World Series, the Sox speedsters were stymied by the Los Angeles Dodgers. And when it was over, there was a feeling around town that the hallmarks of an era were about to pass. During the winter, the new Sox owner Bill Veeck completed a series of trades that changed the complexion of the team. Gone were promising youngsters like Earl Battey, John Callison and John Romano. In their stead were the fading veterans, Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso. It was a gamble that Veeck believed was worth taking. Since buying out Dorothy Comiskey's 54% of the stock in 1958, the enterprising owner entertained and delighted Sox fans with a variety of zany stunts. But the consequences of those 1960 deals haunted the club for the next two decades.

A year later, with the fortunes of the team sinking, Veeck sold the club to his long-time business associate, Arthur Allyn Jr. The Sox were added to a list of companies under the Artnell Corporation umbrella. In 1962 Chuck Comiskey followed Veeck out the door when he sold his own stock to Allyn. For the first time since the founding of the franchise the name of Comiskey was no longer a factor in policy making.

A few noteworthy trades by General Manager Edwin Short lifted the Sox to three consecutive second-place finishes. The '64 season was particularly frustrating for the Pale Hose. Despite winning their final nine games of the year, they were shaded by the Yankees on the last day of the season. Then Lopez announced his retirement after the '65 campaign. He left a veteran ballclub and a depleted farm system to Eddie Stanky, who made the best out of what he had to work with. The "Brat" nearly stole the pennant in 1967, but it wasn't to be.

The disappointing collapse in the closing days of the 1967 flag chase hastened the inevitable. In 1968, the White Sox finished out of the first division for the first time in 17 years. It wasn't so surprising. The years of neglect on the "AA" and "AAA" levels had taken their toll.

The years 1968-1970 were annums of struggle for a franchise with more than its share of misfortune. Attendance dwindled. The team lost a promising young pitcher named Paul Edmonson in a tragic automobile crash in 1969. And while the team fared miserably on its new infield astroturf, the only rumors that circulated through the press room concerned the imminent move to Milwaukee. John Allyn saved the Sox from this fate when he bought out his brother's interests after the 1969 debacle.

Bill Melton, Carlos May, and Luis Aparicio's comeback were about the only things worth cheering in 1970 when the Sox lost a club-record 106 games. With fortunes at a new low, Allyn reshuffled the deck and brought to Chicago Chuck Tanner and Roland Hemond from the California Angels farm system. In a situation not unlike that of 1948, the "braintrust" masterminded a series of deals that lifted the team to respectability in 1971. Rick Reichardt, Pat Kelly, Mike Andrews and Wilbur Wood keyed the 1971 climb.

Dick Allen's arrival in 1972 turned an otherwise decent ballclub into pennant material. The mysterious Allen was the meal ticket, and he was named Most Valuable Player on the strength of 37 home runs and 113 RBI. The team drew one million for the first time in seven years, and Tanner and Hemond walked off with front office awards.

True to the pattern of Sox history, a slump immediately followed. For reasons known only to himself, Allen jumped the team near the end of the 1974 season. The pitching was inadequate and Wilbur Wood was forced to carry the team on his back, much the same way that Ed Walsh had 60 years earlier. By 1975, the dedicated but financially strapped Allyn was forced to put the team on the block again. To his credit, John Allyn resisted offers from a group of Seattle investors in order to complete his sale to Bill Veeck, who galloped into town to save the Sox for Chicago. Veeck had high hopes, but he was hamstrung by the League due to his methods of capitalization. As a result, he was not in a position to participate in the high-stakes free agency market that was almost a prerequisite to success.

At the very least, a team needed the resources to retain its players if they were unable to sign someone else. When Richie Zisk and Oscar Gamble departed after the memorable 1977 season, it was an ominous warning that not even Veeck could ensure a winner if the till was barren. With the middle of their lineup gutted, the 1978-1980 editions limped home in fifth place amidst the usual off-the-field controversies.

By 1980, the Sox were on the market again. This time there were interested buyers. When the League turned down a serious bid by Edward DeBartolo of Youngstown, Ohio, Veeck sold his interests to a group of investors headed by Jerry Reinsdorf of the Balcor Corporation and Eddie Einhorn of CBS Sports. With imagination and daring, the duo rebuilt the Sox in relatively short time. Carlton Fisk and Greg Luzinski provided the experience and the muscle, while youngsters like Harold Baines and LaMarr Hoyt gradually developed into stars.

As the Sox prepared to host the 50th Anniversary All-Star Game in 1983, the team surprised the experts by coasting to their first division title since the leagues were geographically realigned in 1969. In the process, the Sox established an American League record by out-distancing their nearest opponent by 20 games.

The revelry of 1983 was accompanied by a bitter playoff loss to Baltimore, a club that had been a haunting nemesis since the 1959 pennant year. In 1984, LaMarr Hoyt failed to duplicate his '83 Cy Young efforts, and the team took a dive despite holding down first place at the All-Star break. Hoyt was traded at season's end for the soon-to-be crowned-Rookie of the Year Ozzie Guillen.

However, controversy seemed to follow this club like a storm cloud. Ken Harrelson left the broadcast booth to replace Roland Hemond as General Manager. Harrelson's legacy was short-lived. After replacing Manager Tony LaRussa with Jim Fregosi, Harrelson bowed out of the picture himself. A period of retrenchment and re-evaluation followed. With an eye on upgrading the stagnant farm system, the White Sox hired Larry Himes to develop the kind of players who would carry the team forward into the 1990's.

The organization-minded Himes quietly went to work while events off the field drew attention away from the players and the game. Early in 1986, Reinsdorf and Einhorn sought assistance from the state in securing necessary funding to build a stadium to replace crumbling and antiquated Comiskey Park. When a proposed stadium site in suburban Addison was voted down in public referendum, the Mayor and the Governor stepped forward to ensure the Sox that the new park would be built across the street from its present location. The agreement that was hammered out was a perilous one, and the inertia of the state legislature through much of 1987 forced the hand of Sox owners, who for a time were courted by civic officials from St. Petersburg, Florida.

As the clock ticked down on the spring session of the General Assembly, the future of the franchise seemed dubious at best. As the eleventh hour approached, all indications pointed toward that long anticipated move out of Illinois, a fate that other ownerships had miraculously avoided on three other occasions.

The Sox fans, who had remained strangely silent during the weeks of endless speculation and debate, finally rallied to the cause. A Civic Center rally and petition drive on June 17, 1988 netted 30,000 signatures. They were presented to local legislators, who took the news down to Springfield. The grass-roots lobbying effort of two fan groups went a long way in convincing many members of the General Assembly that a vote for the stadium was in the state's best interests.

Coincidental with the 78th anniversary of the opening of the existing Comiskey Park, the money for the new Comiskey Park was approved at the stroke of midnight, June 30-July 1. When all the votes were counted, the measure passed by a margin of 30-26 in the Senate and 60-55 in the house. It was a storybook finish with a happy ending. The future of the franchise was assured on May 7, 1989, when, at last, ground was broken for the new stadium directly across the street from old Comiskey. Opening Day is set for April 1991.

October 8, 1948 ..... Frank Lane is recruited from the Big Ten to replace Les O'Connor as General Manager.

October 1, 1950 ..... Luke Appling collects his final hit in an illustrious career that spans 20 seasons and 2,422 games, all in a White Sox uniform.

May 1, 1951 ..... Minnie Minoso makes his White Sox debut, thereby becoming the first black player to play for the team. In his first plate appearance, Minoso hit a home run against Vic Raschi of the Yankees. In that same game, another rookie of note--Mickey Mantle--also collected his first big league homer.

1951 Season ..... The "Go-Go" era of White Sox baseball dawns as the club draws over one million customers for the first time. In May, the team wins 14 consecutive games.

September 10, 1954 ..... Manager Paul Richards, one of the architects of the "Go-Go" era, resigns to accept a position with the Orioles.

April 23, 1955 ..... The Sox establish numerous club offensive records that have yet to be broken, defeating the A's 29-6 at Kansas City on a rainy, cool day.

December 16, 1955 ..... Following the announcement of General Manager Frank Lane's resignation, Chuck Comiskey, grandson of the "Old Roman," and John Dungan Rigney are elevated to vice-presidents.

October 29, 1956 ..... Al Lopez replaces Marty Marion as manager.

December 10, 1956 ..... The "grand lady of baseball," Grace Comiskey, dies. Controlling interest in the White Sox is retained by her daughter, Dorothy.

December 20, 1958 ..... Bill Veeck and his partners gain majority control of the White Sox after a lengthy court battle with the Comiskey heirs.

April 22, 1959 ..... In one of the strangest games in Sox annals, the club scores 11 runs on one hit in the seventh inning against the hapless A's.

August 21, 1959 ..... Nellie Fox Day is celebrated at Comiskey Park.

September 22, 1959 ..... The Sox end a 40-year pennant drought by clinching the American League title at Cleveland. The flag is won on the strength of pitching, defense, and speed, all hallmarks of the "Go Go" era.

June 10, 1961 ..... Due to failing health and other considerations, Bill Veeck sells his White Sox holdings to his former business associate, Arthur Allyn, Jr. A year later, Chuck Comiskey sells his minority interest in the team to Allyn.

July 22, 1962 ..... Floyd Robinson collects six singles in six at-bats against Boston.

1963 Season ..... Allyn announces his intention to build a private club, called the "Coach and Nine," across the street from Comiskey Park. Later, he seeks assistance from business groups to finance a new domed stadium south of Chicago's Loop. However, both projects are scrapped for lack of interest.

November 11, 1965 ..... Al Lopez ends his long successful run as Sox manager with the announcement of his resignation.

1968-69 ..... To bolster sagging attendance, the White Sox play "home" games at County Stadium in Milwaukee against each A.L. opponent.

1969 Season ..... Astro-turf is installed in the Comiskey Park infield. In 1976 it is replaced with natural grass.

September 24, 1969 ..... Arthur Allyn, Jr. sells the White Sox to his brother, John, thereby putting to rest speculation that the Sox will depart for Milwaukee.

July 19, 1970 ..... Luis Aparicio Day is celebrated in Comiskey Park.

September 2, 1970 ..... Following their worst season in history, General Manager Stu Holcomb hires Roland Hemond to rebuild the franchise.

July 22, 1987 ..... Harold Baines belts a home run off of Baltimore's Mike Boddicker, which shatters Bill Melton's career team record of 154.

October, 1987 ..... The Illinois State Senate confirms four gubernatorial appointees to the Illinois Sports Facility Authority. The vote, in concert with the three previous mayoral appointments, finalizes formation of the body charged with the development of the new White Sox stadium.

June 30, 1988 ..... At the stroke of midnight, the Illinois General Assembly approves an amended stadium bill ensuring that the club will remain in Chicago. The new stadium is scheduled for a 1991 opening.

May 7, 1989 ..... Mayor Richard M. Daley and Governor James Thompson are among the celebrities who participate in groundbreaking ceremonies for the New Comiskey Park.

July 17, 1989 ..... Catcher Carlton Fisk notches his 2,000th career hit against New York at Comiskey Park.

August 20, 1989 ..... Following his trade to Texas, the team retires Harold Baines' uniform #3. Baines joins Frank Robinson and Phil Niekro as the only still-active players to have their uniform numbers retired.

Comiskey Park Flashback

The ballpark was built on property that belonged to the estate of former Mayor John Wentworth. Directly east of the stadium , in what is now the parking lot, stood a small wooden grandstand used by the Chicago Pirates, the city's entry into the short-lived Player's League. Charles Comiskey was the first baseman for this team in 1890.

Comiskey Park Flashback

Promotions and giveaway days have always been popular attractions at Comiskey Park. In the 1960's S & H Green Stamp Day, Teen Night, the annual arrival of the Indianapolis Clowns baseball team, Bat Day, Homecoming Day, Little League Day, Wilson Ball Day, and the jet-propelled "Rocket Man" sponsored by White Owl cigars were yearly favorites with young and old alike.

HIGHLIGHTS

The 1989 Pacific Coast League Champions, the Vancouver Canadians.

The White Sox player development system was definitely a winner in 1989. The Sox organization has improved progressively over the last three years during the Larry Himes regime, moving into the top 10 among baseball's 26 organizations in the 1980's.

As the '89 campaign opened, so did the Ed Smith Sports Complex, the new minor league headquarters and spring training facility for the ChiSox, and home of the "A" Sarasota White Sox and the Gulf Coast White Sox. With new managers at all six affiliates, no one was quite sure what 1989 would hold. However, it turned out to be a spectacular season for all six.

The six clubs posted the best overall regular-season record among player development systems, 404-290 (.582). That's the eighth-best record during the 1980's. This is the first system with six clubs to post at least 400 wins since the Mets in 1984.

The White Sox organization also garnered three league titles by Vancouver (Pacific Coast League), Birmingham (Southern League) and South Bend (Midwest League). This is only the fourth time an organization has won three or more full season championships in the last 20 years (1970 L.A., 1980 and 1982 Yankees), and just the 12th time in 20 years an organization has won three or more titles at any level.

The other three Sox affiliates all played at the .500 mark or better. This is an improvement from 1988 when only four of the six Sox teams finished above .500.

The White Sox organization had a fantastic year. Our congratulations to all of our affiliates!

The South Bend White Sox celebrate winning the Midwest League Championship.

Comiskey Park Flashback

On April 23, 1923 someone hurled a dynamite bomb at the front gate of Comiskey Park. No one was injured and only a few panes of glass had to be replaced. Disgruntled trade unionists were believed responsible.

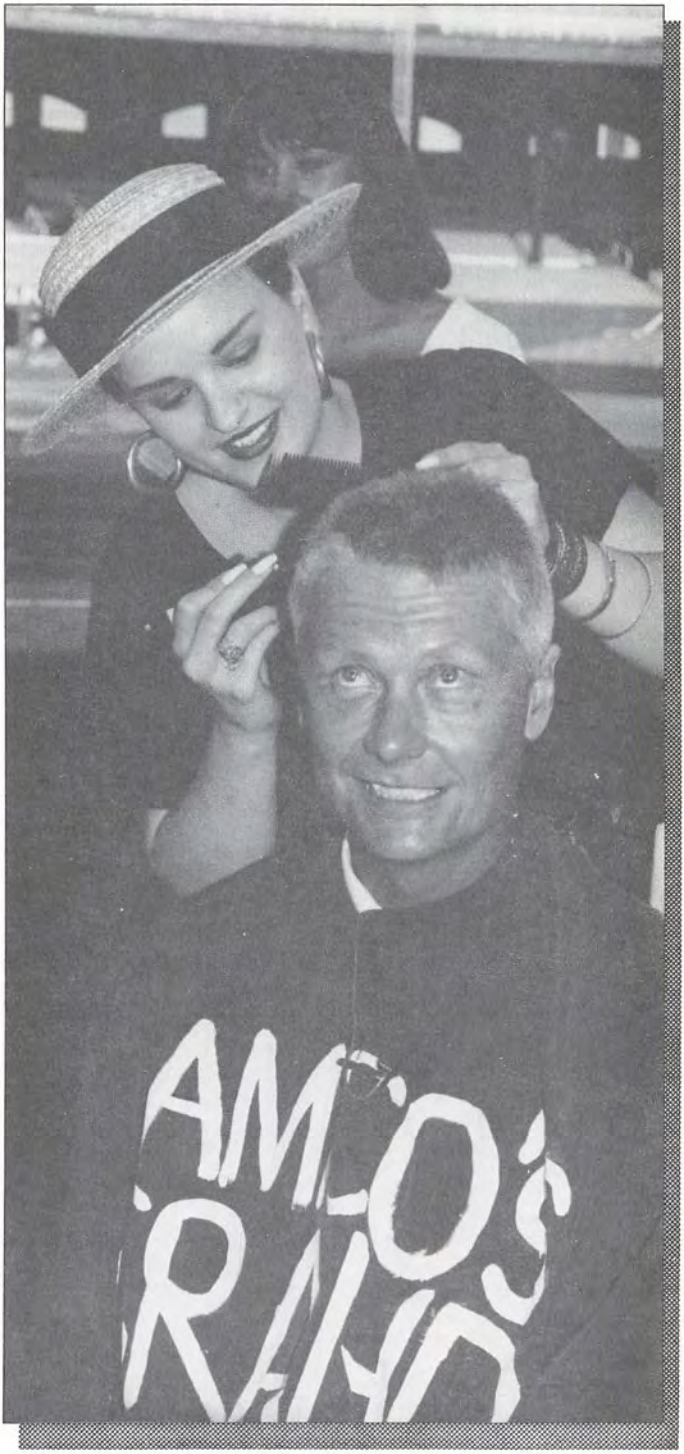
MEDIA



White Sox broadcaster Tom Paciorek said, "If the White Sox ever win eight games in a row, I'll shave my head." Paciorek kept his word.

GUIDELINES

Credentials

Application for credentials to White Sox baseball at Comiskey Park should be made in writing on appropriate letterhead. Address requests to Chuck Adams, Vice President/Public Relations, Chicago White Sox, 324 W. 35th Street, Chicago, IL 60616. Requests for season credentials should be received by March 15, 1990. Single-game or single-series requests should be received at least one week prior to the desired game(s). Season credentails will be mailed; single-game or single-series passes will be left at the press "will call" gate (9). Single-game or single-series credentials must be displayed at all times.

Media Will Call

Press "will call" at Comiskey Park is located at Gate 9 on the third base (Shields Avenue) or west side of the park. The gate opens beginning two hours prior to the game's starting time. Media needing earlier access to Comiskey Park should make special arrangements through the White Sox public relations office.

Parking

Press parking is limited. The White Sox public relations office will make every effort to accommodate media members. Most of the parking available to the press is located on 34th Street immediately north of the left field wall.

Clubhouses

The White Sox occupy the third base clubhouse; visiting teams man the first base clubhouse. The White Sox clubhouse is open to the media until approximately 30 minutes prior to the start of each game and again about 10 minutes following the game's conclusion. The White Sox clubhouse is closed to the media between games of doubleheaders unless special exceptions are made by the manager. The visiting clubhouse is subject to the rules of the respective club.

Access Limits

The White Sox training room, weight room and players' lounge inside the White Sox clubhouse are off limits to the media at all times.

Dugouts

The dugouts are off limits during games to everyone except uniformed personnel and certain White Sox officials in accordance with American League rules.

Field

Credentials must be marked for field access. Credentials do not necessarily entitle holders access to the field. Media members with field privileges are free to circulate during batting practice through the conclusion of infield drills. Following both teams' infield drills, the field must be cleared of all non-uniformed personnel. Except in unusual cases, the field also is off limits following the conclusion of games.

Photo Locations

Field level and upper deck photo locations are available. The field level positions are located in dugouts on each baseline just beyond the players' dugouts. Since space is limited, most field photo positions are assigned for the season. Special arrangements for use of the field level positions must be made through the White Sox public relations office. Several photo baskets hang from the facade of the upper deck at varying intervals around the infield. There are no photo positions in the outfield or on Comiskey Park's roof.

Game Notes

Game notes and statistics are provided by both teams prior to each game in bins affixed to the front of row three in the main working room of the press box.

Post-Game Notes

Notes, clubhouse quotes and statistics are provided to the press in written form as soon as possible following the game.

Press Box

Located on level five, most seats are assigned on a season basis. Access is limited strictly to working members of the media. Non-working members of the press should contact the public relations office prior to the game for accommodation in the stands. In addition to media services, a light meal service, snacks, and beverages are available. No guests will be tolerated.

Bards Room

Press credentials afford media members admittance to the Comiskey Park Bards Room (level four) for a pre-game meal. The Bards Room, which serves press meals in its north dining room beginning two hours prior to the game, also opens for soft drinks for approximately one and one-half hours following the game. Space in the press dining room is limited so media members are asked to eat and relinquish their seats for others. A one dollar gratuity for the servers is traditional and appreciated.

Broadcast Booths

Comiskey Park broadcast booths are pre-assigned. There are only five. Broadcast booth needs should be directed to Dan Fabian, coordinator of broadcasting. Spanish-language station WTAQ, La Grange, broadcasts some White Sox home games, further limiting booth availability for non-broadcast needs.

Interviews

Uniformed personnel normally are available to the media on the field during batting practice and in the clubhouse during times when the clubhouse is open to the press. Media members needing to reach members of the White Sox organization at other times should contact the club's public relations office.

BROADCASTING

Broadcasts

The 1990 edition of the White Sox is scheduled to be seen 162 times on over-the-air (WGN-TV) or cable (SportsChannel Chicago) television. The White Sox plan to offer 42 regular-season and three spring training contests on WGN, along with the annual White Sox-Cubs Gatorade Windy City Classic. SportsChannel Chicago will carry 114 regular-season and one spring training contest. ESPN will present two Sox games with CBS-TV broadcasting one. The carrier of three other games will be announced at a later date. WMAQ (670 AM) Radio, Chicago's 50,000-watt, clear channel Westinghouse affiliate continues to serve as the Sox flagship station, carrying all 162 regular-season games and 16 spring training contests. WTAQ (1300 AM) Radio, LaGrange, Ill., offers Spanish language descriptions of selected home and road contests.
